

Cabinet, Political and Economic Organization,

Receives Appraisal

WASHINGTON — For two years, ten people have entered the White House regularly every Tuesday and Friday sit at a long mahogany table with Franklin Roosevelt and discuss with him the problems of the New Deal.

These ten comprise the greatest conglomeration of political faiths and economic walks of life ever to make up a Cabinet: two Republicans, one Hooverist, one New Englander, two from the solid South, one Far Westerner, one woman, one New York Jew, and one Tammany Democrat.

How have they come through the ordeal of the first two years? Have they developed, grown in stature, or become deflated? Here is an appraisal of them at mid-term.

CORDELL HULL—Secretary of State and number one man in the Cabinet, still is downcast because he thinks he does not get proper support from the White House, but still is fighting for the one goal of his life—reduced tariffs.

And he is finally beginning to get somewhere.

Aside from his reciprocity treatment, Hull is not absorbed in the general foreign policy of the United States, and his State Department pretty well runs itself, though sometimes very badly. He is slow, roundabout, extremely sensitive to criticism; but once he sets his mind on an objective he gets there, no matter how long it takes.

HENRY MORGENTHAU—Secretary of the Treasury, is one who if asked by Franklin Roosevelt to get a slice of the moon, would struggle desperately to reach it.

He remains the Cabinet member closest to the President. His ideas are Roosevelt's ideas. His acts are Roosevelt's acts.

Morgenthau has got over his initial nervousness, and has turned out to be a first class executive. He would be better if he did not take too many details to the White House.

GEORGE DERN—Secretary of War, continues to be one of the most pleasant, conscientious members of the Cabinet. But he is Secretary of War merely in name. General Douglas MacArthur runs the War Department, has become so necessary to Dern that he urged his reappointment as Chief of Staff.

From the Army's point of view, Dern is an ideal Secretary. He gives them what they want.

HOMER CUMMINGS, Attorney General, is the most genial and good-natured member of the official family. Next to Farley he is also the most politically-minded. Political considerations count more with him than those of merit, and as a result his appointments are among the worst in the New Deal.

Cummings' Justice Department is more steeped in red tape than any other, and important law cases move forward with the slowness of a tortoise, although without that creature's perseverance.

In recent months, Homer has built up a barrage of publicity regarding his work of corralling gangsters which has successfully thrown the spotlight away from his other defects.

JAMES ALOYSIUS FARLEY, Postmaster General, still remains the most battered member of the Cabinet, though his unequivocal comeback at Huey Long has partly restored his badly plucked plumage.

Jim has kept off the political firing line as far as possible and is trying to rebuild the efficiency of his Post Office Department, which suffered badly during his peregrinations about the country. He has adopted the cue of lying low and saying little.

However, he is still de-seized by jobholders and it is doubtful whether anyone who is both Postmaster General Continued On Page Five

SHORT BEGINS AUDITOR JOB; 4 AIDES BUSY

Appoints Ned Dresbach
As Deputy Sealer of Weights, Measures

TAX RUSH IS ON

Krinn Ends 17 Years of County Service

Forrest Short and his crew of deputies officially took over the auditor's office today replacing Clifford M. White and his deputies. Short, Wayne-twp resident, is the first Republican auditor Pickaway-co has had since prior to the turn of the century.

He defeated Mr. White last November.

As he took office Short announced the appointment of Ned H. Dresbach, son of Mr. and Mrs. Emmanuel Dresbach, Watt-st, as deputy sealer of weights and measures. Dresbach, a graduate of Circleville high school, is 23 years of age.

Short's other appointments were announced a week ago.

Tipton is Chief

They are Fred L. Tipton, Williamsport, as chief deputy succeeding Tom D. Krinn; John Mesick, Ashville, replacing Leo White, and Mark Armstrong, W. Mound-st, taking the place of Mrs. Frank Littleton. Dresbach succeeds Claude Ater as deputy sealer.

Short's first duty today was acting as clerk for the commissioners while every one else was kept busy taking care of personal tax reports. A crowd of persons, many driven into town because it was too wet to do any farm work, lined the counters all day filing their reports, then paying their taxes at the treasurer's office.

Tom D. Krinn, who Saturday wound up his work as deputy auditor, was busy today handling the old age pension business of the county. This work has become important because there are now 490 persons receiving monthly checks in Pickaway-co. Checks amount to $5,926.50 every month.

Krinn's office is over the Paul Johnson printing office, S. Court-st.

Served 17 Years

The former deputy is without a doubt one of the best educated men in Ohio as far as auditor's work is concerned. He has served for more than 17 years either as auditor or as deputy.

He first took office as auditor Oct. 15, 1917. He served five years and four months as auditor then was deputy for eight years under Bryce Briggs and for four years under Clifford White.

Mrs. Frank Littleton, who also retires from the office, served for eight years as a deputy for Mr. Briggs and four years for Mr. White. She was also very efficient in the stenographic work of the office.

Mr. Krinn plans to go to Columbus Tuesday to learn just what can be done for the pension office. A sum of $84 monthly is now being paid for the work here, Mr. Krinn dividing this money with other persons in the auditor's office who helped him.

VILLAGES RECEIVE AUTO TAG CHECKS

A distribution of automobile license tag money was received at the office of Auditor Forrest Short, Monday. Checks will be sent to the various villages Tuesday.

The sums include:
County, $6,909; Circleville, $1,250; Ashville, $200; Commercial, $25; New Holland, $75; South Bloomfield, $25; Tilton, $25, and Williamsport $75.

4 Children Named In Gardner Estate

Their children are beneficiaries of the estate of the late Ovid and Luella Gardner, Saltcreek-twp, according to papers filed in probate court today.

The children are Frederick L., Grace A., Fannie and Ovid M. The estate of the father is worth $2,300 and the mother $5,500.

Appraisers are Jacob Roll, Walter Parker and Lewis Crawford.

FORFEITS $5 BOND

Paul Frazier, milling company employe, forfeited $5 bond for intoxication in Mayor W. B. Cady's court, Monday.

HEAVY RAINS AID FARMERS

More Than Inch Recorded
Over Week-end; Planting to Start Soon

Pickaway-co farmlands, still feeling the effect of last summer's drought, received a needed bath prior to the spring planting season during the week-end. The rain was general throughout the state.

Rain falling here prior to noon today totalled almost one and one-quarter inches.

The rains were heaviest in the southern part of the state where 1.34 inches were reported during the last 24 hours.

Unsettled conditions will continue for the next 24 hours with a slight drop in temperature expected tonight.

High temperature here Sunday was 56 degrees with the temperature falling to 39 during the night.

BRUNO MUST PAY FOR OWN APPEAL

TRENTON, N. J., March 11—Bruno Richard Hauptmann's appeal will be paid for by the defense, and not by the state of New Jersey, it was learned today.

The surprising announcement was made by Defense Attorney Frederick A. Pope, who said "there never was any thought that the state would pay for the printing of the trial record." Asked why Hauptmann had signed a pauper's oath, Pope said, "we would have had to reimburse the state anyway."

Pope said he expected to confer with Attorney General David T. Wilentz at his office today, "for a few minutes."

ROOM IS LEASED

Mr. and Mrs. T. P. Brown have leased their storeroom at 137 W. Main-st to the Tompkins Ice Cream Co., Columbus, which will take possession April 1.

Charles Beck has moved his meat market to the Washington bakery building now owned by Mrs. Howard Irwin.

WILEY POST READY

Woman Electrocuted Sitting in Bathtub

WASHINGTON, March 11—Inserting an electric vibrator into a floor socket as she sat in a bathtub filled with water, Mrs. Margaret Blair Portier, 33, was electrocuted in front of her two-year-old daughter. William Renn, of Shamokin, Pa., a brother, heard her cries and notified a physician. Two other brothers, Walter Renn, of Shamokin, and Eugene Renn, of Harrisburg, and a sister, Mrs. Betty Poore, also survive.

EARL WEAVER NEW DEPUTY

To Be Appointed By Radcliff
As Soon As Custer Officially Quits

Sheriff Charles Radcliffe, Monday afternoon, was ready to appoint Earl W. Weaver, 156 W. High-st, as his deputy to succeed Bryan J. Custer, who today started his work as a deputy United States marshal under Kenneth Kerr, Columbus.

The only thing holding up Weaver's appointment was Custer's

BIG BOB NOW 30

Deputy Bob Armstrong, who is starting his fifth year with Sheriff, Charles Radcliffe, reached his thirtieth birthday anniversary Sunday. A surprise party was staged at the home of his parents.

ver's appointment was Custer's formal resignation as deputy sheriff. This was supposed to take place Monday afternoon. Custer was sworn in as a federal officer Saturday.

Weaver, a native of Pickaway-twp and a resident of Pickaway-co, practically his entire life, was selected from more than 300 applicants for the position which pays $125 per month. The chief deputy's job includes regular crime prevention duties in addition to all the bookkeeping for the office.

The sheriff's selection is 32 years of age and a son of Cliff V. and Jesse Shook Weaver. His mother is deceased.

Weaver graduated from the local high school in 1921 then served four years in Uncle Sam's navy being honorably discharged in 1925.

The selection is certain to be a popular one since Weaver has many friends who will be pleased to greet him in the sheriff's office.

MILK PRODUCERS, DISTRIBUTORS TO DEMAND INCREASE

COLUMBUS, March 11—Representatives of Pickaway-co milk producers and distributors will appear before the state milk commission at 3:30 p. m. tomorrow to ask an increase in prices.

They are seeking an increase of 35 cents a hundredweight, from $1.75 to $2.10 in the price paid to farmers, and a boost from nine to ten cents a quart in the price to consumers, according to Dr. C. G. McBride, secretary of the milk commission.

Distributors claim they are unable to compete with manufacturers who are offering as high as $2.05 and $2.10 a hundredweight for milk in the area. They contend the supply available for Circleville and other communities is threatened, unless they are permitted to increase the price paid to farmers.

ROPE ONLY STUCK

There was nothing wrong at the straw-board at 12:30 p. m. today when the whistle sounded for such a long time at noon—the rope which blows the whistle was only stuck.

NEGRO, KILLER OF TWO, IS EXECUTED

RICHMOND, Va., March 11—Philip Jones, negro, was electrocuted in the state penitentiary for brutally killing Alice and Ellen Hill, sisters, 13 and nine, respectively.

The bodies of the children were found near Jones' house at Clifton Forge, Va., where they had been sent to deliver a telephone message to the negro.

LOYAL TROOPS SMASH REBEL ARMY ON LAND

Backbone of Grecian
Revolt Believed Broken;
3,000 Captured

WARSHIP IS TAKEN

State of War Now
Existing in Cuba

ATHENS, Mar. 11—Collapse of the Greek revolution on land was claimed by the government today.

Rebels were reported in full flight after loyal troops had captured a wide area east of the Struma river, including the rebel cities of Seres, Drama, Demirhisir, and Kavalla.

The government announced the capture of 3,000 prisoners at Seres. The remainder of the rebels, under General Camenos, were said to be retreating in disorder towards the mountains in the east.

Forty officers of the garrison at Salonika, accused of conspiring with the rebels, nearly were lynched by loyalists as they arrived in Athens under arrest.

The government also announced a victory on the sea, frustrating an attempt by the rebels' stolen fleet to come to the aid of the land revolt.

Ship Abandoned

Rebel officers and members of the crew of the cruiser Helle abandoned the vessel at Kavalla after a heavy bombardment by government vessels and land batteries.

Loyalist officers immediately took possession of the Helle, which was expected to proceed immediately to Salonika, headquarters of the government's land forces.

Communist officers, according to the government, were found to be in charge of some of the rebels when 150 were taken prisoners in the drive towards Seres.

HAVANA, March 11—Determined to put down by drastic measures the revolutionary strike that has already tied up the island with half a million workers participating, the cabinet today issued an emergency decree declaring that a "state of war" exists throughout the republic.

The decree means that a drastic military regime will hold power in Cuba until order is restored.

Streets Deserted

The capital was outwardly calm today, but intermittent shots and bomb explosions rang through the dark, deserted streets during the night.

BURGLARS LOOT CASKEY'S PLACE

The Caskey restaurant, Washington and Corwin-sts, was broken into Sunday night and several cartons of cigarettes and between 200 and 300 pennies were stolen.

The thieves broke a window on the Corwin-st side of the building and gained entrance.

THREE RELEASED

Reba Edwards, 20, Viola Stewart, 20, and Esther Stewart, 11, all of the Stoutsville vicinity, were arrested by officers Saturday evening for shoplifting in Stiffler's and Funk's stores but were released when no charges were placed against them.

DIES IN BALTIMORE

A sister, Mrs. Howard Veal, Chillicothe, also survives.

Nine Hunted in Lake Erie

BAYFIELD, Wis., Mar. 11—The Bayfield, Wis., Mar. 11—The U. S. coast guard cutter Crawford ploughed the icy waters of Lake Superior today, searching for three fishermen adrift on an ice floe.

The trio, A. N. Anderson, A. R. Holman and Louis Rowe, all of Washburn, Wis., with a fourth companion, Britton Day, had gone far out on the ice to fish for trout. A floe, 150 feet in diameter, suddenly broke off from the main body of ice, drifted out into the lake.

Day was not caught on the drifting piece. He rushed to Bayfield for help, but when rescuers re-

COPS BAFFLED; 26 SEWER LIDS LOST

CHICAGO, Mar. 11—Mystified policemen could be heard mutter and growling "now, who would want 26 sewer lids," as they diligently scoured the city today.

Twenty-six manhole covers, each weighing 35 pounds and bearing the inscription "City of Chicago," were purloined from south side streets over the week-end.

"Maybe it was a drunk," hopefully suggested a detective sergeant.

"One lid, yes. But no drunk would take 26 sewer lids," squelched the captain. "Maybe it was 26 drunks," returned the sergeant.

PROF. GILL'S WIFE CALLED

DENY ATTEMPT TO MURDER POPE

LONDON, Mar. 11—Paris reports that an attempt had been made to assassinate Pope Pius were laughed off today in a Reuter's dispatch from Rome.

"The old Mexican custom of carrying daggers led to alarmist reports of an attempt to assassinate the Pope," said Reuter's.

"A Mexican student who sought an audience was searched and found to be in possession of a dagger."

"A police investigation revealed that there was nothing against the student, and he was released."

PARIS, March 11—Pope Pius XI experienced a narrow escape from assassination at the hands of a Mexican, according to Rome dispatch published today in the Paris newspaper Le Jour.

The paper said the Mexican was arrested after he asked Vatican authorities for an audience with the Pope.

A long, thin dagger, that had been recently sharpened, was found concealed in his shirt, said Le Jour.

FEAR AVIATOR LAKE'S VICTIM

CLEVELAND, March 11—Fear that Milton Lampl, missing 23-year-old army flyer, may have plunged to his death in Lake Erie while battling a "pea-soup" fog last night was expressed today by Major John Berry, Cleveland airport commandant.

Major Berry said that Lampl, who has not been seen or heard from since leaving Cleveland last night, probably took a short cut across the corner of Lake Erie at Toledo while enroute to Selfridge field.

If that were the case, chances of finding the flyer alive are remote. Berry said. Lampl had only enough gasoline to last him until midnight.

Six army planes, two national guard craft, and commercial ships today were making a detailed search of the area between Toledo and Vicksburg, O., near Sandusky where the drone of an airplane motor was heard last night.

FISH IS ON TRIAL

WHITE PLAINS, March 11—Trial of Albert H. Fish, 65, for the monstrous murder of 10-year-old Grace Budd, began here today at 10:16 a. m., before Supreme Court Justice Frederick P. Close.

The watery-eyed little defendant, who is in abject terror at the prospect of the electric chair, trembled violently as he was half-carried into the courtroom by two deputies.

He cringed in his chair, eyes closed, as the trial opened.

MISS PHILLIPS WRECK VICTIM; IS IN HOSPITAL

Vertebrae Cracked as Ford Turns Over Trying To Avoid Crash

OTHER CARS COLLIDE

Fred Watts, Teacher, Hit
by Hit-Skipper

Miss Mary Ellen Phillips, daughter of Mrs. Nell Phillips, Pinckney-st, was being treated in Berger hospital today for painful injuries suffered at 1:20 a. m. Sunday when the automobile of Harold Davis, S. Court-st, turned over in the middle of S. Court-st when its driver swerved the machine trying to avoid hitting a car which had turned sharply in front of it.

The other machine was driven by George "Butch" Haley, this city. Others in the Haley car were Miss Fannie Bercher, this city, and Mr. and Mrs. Emmet Florence.

Miss Phillips was thrown to the pavement from the rumble seat of Davis' Ford. She is suffering from a cracked vertebrae, cuts on the back of her head and other cuts on her forehead and chin. Both her knees are skinned and some dirt was scraped into her skin. She is under the care of Dr. E. S. Shane.

Four Others Hurt

Although there were five persons in the Davis car Miss Phillips was the only one injured. The others were Davis, the driver; Miss Ruth Henderson, Linden Baughman and Joe Barnes. All had spent the evening at the Phillips home then later in the evening drove to Valley View, Scioto trail club, to join others who had spent the evening there. The group was returning Miss Henderson to her home when the accident happened.

It is believed when Davis turned his car to avoid the crash the wheels caught on the traction line covering causing the car to turn over. The engine of Davis' Ford caught fire after the accident and the fire department was called.

Coat Breaks Fall

The fact that Miss Phillips was wearing a heavy fur coat probably saved her from more serious injury. It is believed the coat which is torn to shreds, helped break her fall.

School Teacher

Hit-Skip Victim

Fred Watts, high school instructor, was struck by a hit-skip driver at 1 a. m. Sunday while crossing Town at Third-st in Columbus. He was walking with his brother, Gale, and Ormsby Hall, of Columbus.

Watts, who was back in school Monday suffering cuts, a bruised eye and lacerations, was treated at St. Francis hospital.

The accident was later reported to police by Thomas McDonough, Columbus, who said his car was driven by Miss Alice Manning, of the same address.

Watts' brother and Hall jumped to escape being hit.

Two Injured as

Automobile Crash

Miss Alice Caskey, of North Robinson, O., and Edward Wysa, of Bucyrus, were treated at Berger hospital Sunday evening after an accident on the Scioto trail, north of the city.

The former had cuts on the left side of her head and the latter had a deep scalp laceration.

They were riding in the automobile.

GAS OVERCOMES BOY; HE DROWNS

FINDLAY, March 11—Overcome by gas fumes, Robert Edward Jenkins, aged 8, was drowned today in the bathtub at his parent's home here and his 13-year-old brother, Harold, was rendered unconscious but was later revived.

The two boys were slashing in the bathtub together, getting ready to go to school. One of them apparently had turned the gas stove on full force, filling the bathroom with fumes. The youngest collapsed, sinking under the water.

Mrs. Austin Jenkins, mother of the boys, discovered the tragedy and quickly summoned neighbors who called firemen. Desperate efforts were made to resuscitate both boys but only Harold responded.

PICKAWAY FARMERS AIDED BY NEARLY HALF MILLION

CORN AND HOG BENEFITS HIGH

Actual Figure From All Benefits is $488,608.83, AAA Discloses

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 11.—Pickaway-co farmers, signers of the AAA pledge, have received a total of $488,608.83 in benefits from that agency, it was disclosed here today in the report of the comptroller of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration.

Benefits for curtailment of the corn-hog crop comprised the major part of the checks sent into the county, with $351,678.99, the report shows. Payments for wheat croppage reduction totalled $136,929.84, according to the report. No payments were made in the county under the tobacco heading, although residents of other Ohio counties did receive such checks.

The figures given comprise the total payments made from the inception of the crop curtailment agency in May 1933 until the close of business on January 31, 1935. They do not, however, include checks for benefits accruing under the last period, which are being made up in Washington at this time.

During this period farmers throughout the country have received a total of more than $800,000,000 in cash as benefits, rentals, exercise of options, etc.

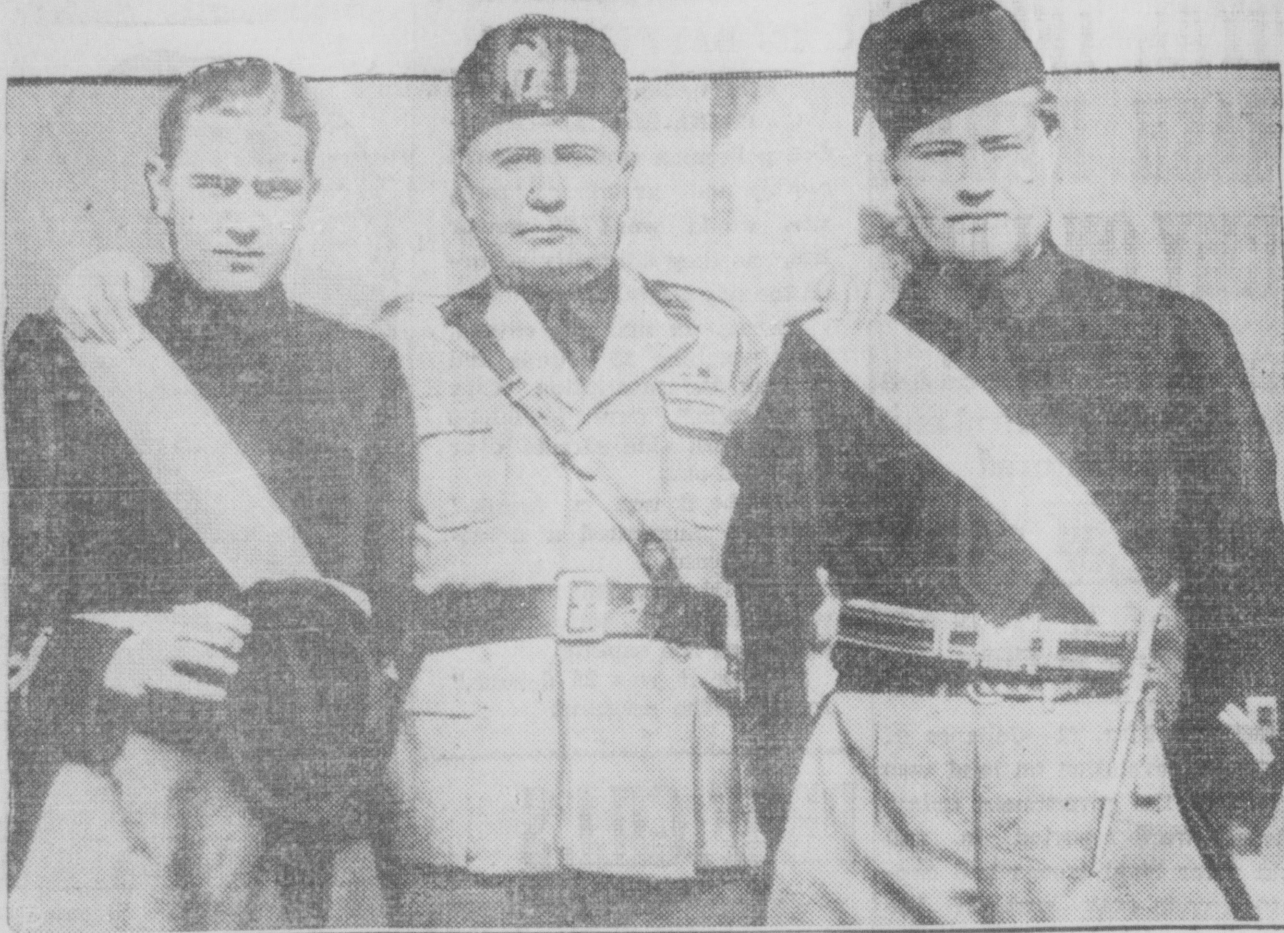

The Ohio share of this disbursement has been $14,791,692.95, according to the report. The major portion of this was under the "corn-hogs" heading, with a total there of $11,325,788.49. Wheat was next with $2,640,178.44, and tobacco last with $825,726.02.

OBITUARY

Willard Richard Francis, son of Mary and John Francis, born March 14, 1919 in Pickaway-co. died suddenly by accident near Kingston March 8, 1935 being near 16 years of age.

Richard leaves to mourn his early demise besides his father and mother, four sisters and three brothers, Mrs. Hazel Levan of Columbus, Mrs. Clarence Hutchinson, Ashville, Denver, Floyd, Marvine, Kathryn and Junior at home. Two sisters preceded him in death. Goldie who died in infancy, and Ruth May at the age of 18 months.

Richard was of a quiet, cheerful disposition, an obedient son, and when death claimed him was happily engaged in a labor that would be helpful to the home. At the age of three he suffered a severe illness, the after effects of which he never completely recovered from. His smiling way and pleasant face are a pleasure to recall.

He had a kindly word for each. And died with love for all. Our lips cannot tell how we miss him.

Our hearts cannot tell what to say; God alone knows how we miss him. In a home that is lonesome today. Some day we hope to meet him. Some day we know not when. To clasp his hand in a better land. Never to part again.

The new and greater Studebaker Corporation reduces delivered prices UP TO $42

Celebrates reorganization under finest financial sponsorship with sensational price challenge

TODAY Studebaker, once more "the Great Independent", in co-operation with Studebaker dealers, issues a sweeping challenge to the automobile industry by sharply reducing delivered prices.

Only the new and greater Studebaker Corporation can offer such values. Its financial structure has been adjusted to a thrifty 1935 basis and all burdensome overhead has been swept away. Studebaker now has millions of dollars in new capital . . . no bank loans . . . no preferred stock. Plants have been written down from $49,000,000 to $15,000,000.

And Studebaker is immediately passing these economies on to the public by building finer cars—by increasing and improving Studebaker's quality—and, most sensationally of all, by unexpectedly reducing delivered prices on the greatest Studebakers ever built.

New Reduced Delivered Prices in Circleville

Studebaker's sensational new delivered prices speak for themselves:

DICTATOR SPECIAL . . . Coupe $798; St. Regis Sedan, $824; Sedan, $855; Custom Sedan (with trunk), $880; Convertible Roadster, $863.

DICTATOR PLANAR . . . Coupe, $829; St. Regis Sedan, $859; Sedan, $890; Custom Sedan (with trunk), $916; Convertible Roadster, $899.

COMMANDER . . . Coupe, $1059; St. Regis Sedan (with trunk), $1121; Custom Sedan (with trunk), $1153; Convertible Roadster, $1112.

PRESIDENT . . . Coupe $1398; Custom Sedan (with trunk), $1489; Convertible Roadster, $1449.

Above delivered prices in Circleville, Ohio include bumpers, bumper guards, spare tire and metal tire cover, wheel lock, metal spring covers, radiator emblem and Federal excise tax.

Green Predominates The St. Patrick's Day Menu

No questions need be asked about the color scheme for a St. Patrick's Day dinner table—it must be green!

Whether you plan a buffet supper or a dinner, a menu like this should be greeted gaily by family and friends.

St. Patrick's Day Menu

Creamed Lobster in Butter-Dough Shells
Green Olives Celery

Shamrock Rolls

Emerald Isle Salad With Cheese

Pastry Pipes

Chocolate Sponge Roll

Green Tea or Coffee

Any creamed fish may be substituted for creamed lobster, and when served in the pastry shells, it acquires a richness that improves any fish chosen.

Butter-Dough Shells

1 pound butter

1 egg

1 C. cold water

2 1/2 C. general purpose flour

Make a dough of the flour, water and egg. Knead until dough does not adhere to the board. Roll out to a square 1/4-inch thick, and put washed and creamed butter on the center. Fold corners toward center, then fold twice, pat and roll with the rolling pin. Repeat folding process until butter is well worked into the dough. Chill thoroughly. Repeat above method 3 times. Roll out and fit to shells. Bake at 450 degrees for about 10 minutes.

The lobster is creamed by making a sauce of flour, butter and milk; adding egg for thickening and onion juice for flavoring.

Garnish the creamed lobster shells with green pepper cut in shapes of Irish hats.

Emerald Isle Salad

Tinting pale fruits with vegetable green is the key to the Emerald Isle salad. Pineapple, grapefruit and green grapes are used. When served on pale green, crisp lettuce cups with mayonnaise, the effect is quite clever. Use the coloring matter sparingly, or a sickening effect may be produced instead of the interesting one desired.

Chocolate Sponge Roll

6 Tbsp. cake or pastry flour

6 Tbsp. cocoa

1 tsp. baking powder

1/4 tsp. salt

1/4 C. sugar

4 eggs

1 tsp. vanilla

Sift the flour, cocoa, baking powder and salt three times. Beat the egg whites stiffly. Fold in the sugar. Then fold in the egg yolks (beaten until thick and lemon colored) with the vanilla. Fold in the flour gradually. Pour into a shallow, oblong pan (15 by 10 inches) lined with waxed paper, and bake for 13 minutes. Turn out at once onto a cloth covered with confectioner's sugar. Cut off the crisp edges, spread with marshmallow filling and roll. Wrap in a cloth to cool.

Marshmallow Filling

1/2 pound marshmallows (32)

1 egg white

Peppermint Flavoring

Green coloring

Heat the marshmallows with the green coloring over hot water until soft, but not melted. Pour over the stiffly beaten egg white. Add flavoring and spread on cake. The faster you work after taking the cake from the oven, the easier it will be to roll it into a neat shape.

THE PINK SLIP

NO PARTICULAR power of prophecy is required to foresee that the injustice of the "pink slip" provision of the income tax law will be felt especially in the towns and small cities, of which Circleville may very well be a typical example. In the larger cities, people are too occupied with their own affairs and care too little about the affairs of others to pry into them.

But in the smaller towns the standing of the chief citizens is somewhat a matter of common knowledge, and there lies in the pink slip the power to give an untrue picture of many a man's actual and potential resources which could not only damage reputations but could actually bring financial disaster to worthy persons.

Particularly is this true of professional and business men and merchants. To be forced to disclose to the public gaze the extent of temporary reverses or of inability to collect accounts due may well unjustly impair the individual's credit standing and injure his business. The pink slip is so devised as to publish gross income, the authorizable deductions (in toto), and the tax payable.

It takes but a moment's thought to realize that these figures by no means give an accurate picture of the individual's financial status. A professional man, for example, who was able to collect only a portion of his fees in a bad year might nevertheless have excellent claims on which he could ultimately realize. In the lean year his financial position would appear from the pink slips much worse than in fact it was, and if in the next year many back payments were made it would seem much better. In either case the credit and social standing of the individual in the community would be unfairly affected.

The argument that the country has the right to know the incomes of its rich citizens is no argument, for no such right exists. The country's true right is to compel that rich and poor alike pay their taxes. It is a purpose not abetted by the pink slips. The provisions for them can and should be repealed before March 15.

BREVITY

ARISING before the house of representatives in convention solemnly assembled, Representative Andrew J. May requested the privilege of the floor for two and one-half minutes in which to deal, verbally, with the Mexican situation.

Two and one-half minutes later Representative Thomas L. Blanton sought the lesser privilege of two and one-quarter minutes in which to reply.

Thus the affairs of Mexico were disposed of, and, we hope no doubt, adequately disposed of, in four and three-quarters minutes.

It must be a good sign. If congressmen can acquit themselves of the Mexican problem in less than five minutes, may they not dispose of Japan in ten and, perhaps, the NRA in fifteen? At any rate, we hope so.

If it should become the fashion, soon we may learn that as brevity is the soul of wit so, too, is it the embodiment of congressional wisdom.

Never defeat a dangerous radical. To cure him of his foolish theories, just give him the job of making them work.

"Take no thought for the morrow" hasn't been forgotten. It still makes a lot of people pay the first instalment.

There wouldn't be so many tough kids if the penalty for minor offenses was a public spanking instead of jail.

Following a traffic crash, a Chicago woman started a $2,000 suit for loss of psychic powers, which, if she had possessed them in the first place, would have enabled her to see the crash ahead of time and be somewhere else when it occurred.

Looking Back In Pickaway County

FIVE YEARS AGO

A new postoffice building for Circleville was proposed at a meeting of business men held to discuss the unemployment situation. A special committee, with James I. Smith as chairman, was named to take the matter up with Congressman Underwood.

Representatives for 13 organizations met to discuss the "Road to Remembrance," a memorial for the soldier dead consisting of 50 maple trees along the state highway south of Circleville, and a boulder with a bronze tablet.

Headed by the regent, Mrs. Orin King, and Mrs. George Foreman, chairman of the Revolutionary graves committee, the Pickaway Plains chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, planned to locate and mark the graves of all Revolutionary soldiers buried in Pickaway-co.

W. C. Darst, publisher of The Daily Herald, purchased the Crist block on the north side of W. Main-st for a home for the newspaper plant. The store room had been occupied by Thos. Stoffer & Son's harness store for 23 years.

The new brick road extension on N. Court-st, north of the corporation line, was opened for traffic.

Fire did considerable damage to the residence property of John Howard, E. Union-st. The blaze started from a gas stove in an out-building.

25 YEARS AGO

The old frame building fronting on Washington-st, built in 1873 by C. E. Sears and used as a cannery factory, was being torn down and replaced by a modern brick structure. The owners of the property were H. M. Crites, F. P. Berger and I. F. Snyder.

T. J. Morris sold his farm of 168 acres in Washington-twp to H. M. Crites at $121.50 an acre. Mr. Morris also sold his personal property at auction.

Charles Raub, weighmaster at the Margraff elevator at Kingston, was seriously injured when he was struck by a train.

GYPSY GIRL

THE STORY OF AN IMPASSIONED ROMANCE

McDONALD FEADER

READ THIS FIRST:

Consuelo, a beautiful gypsy girl, longs to dance with all the world at her feet. In love with her is the Dummy, a deaf mute, and Marcu, both members of her tribe. Marcu has only hate for her mother, Anica, but is extremely fond of her father, Girtza. The father repudiates Anica for her treatment of Consuelo. When Anica finds Consuelo dressed in her own wedding skirt, she beats her with a whip. Marcu rescues the girl and the father then turns the whip on Anica. Consuelo's father slaps her when he catches her trying to hold back money she has made dancing at the county fair.

(NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY)

CHAPTER 5

IT WAS NOT quite dusk when Marcu slipped away from camp, but by the time he had reached the fair grounds the lights were already on and the crowds were gathering. He did not stop but walked on into the town and through the crowded streets. He seemed to know his way for he did not hesitate until he came to a side street on the up side of town where it was lonely and deserted. He walked slowly then and glanced around often. No one was on the street. One light was flickering weakly overhead. He edged close to the windows of a little shop and suddenly disappeared.

He stood back in the entrance and glanced about him again. Assured that no one was around he stared down into the show window. His eyes focused upon a large diamond ring. He backed further into the shadow until he was pressing against the door. Instinctively his right hand rested upon the knife hidden under the wide silk belt. Now he drew it forth and stooping down inspected the door lock.

His left hand pressed against the latch, the knife blade ready to insert when, to his utter surprise, the latch gave way and the door parted a half inch. He sprang back and hid the knife under his belt and waited. There was no noise. After a moment he pushed the door open a little more. The interior of the shop was quite dark and as far as he could tell, deserted. Again he glanced out into the street. There was no one around.

He pushed the door open further and slipped in, listening intently. He crossed to the window. His eyes were upon that glittering diamond that rested so insecurely there. He was breathing hard. Now! He reached out.

Something pressed against his ribs. "Did you want something?" a quiet voice asked.

Marcu drew in his breath and turned around. He stood facing a short little man, a long barreled rifle in his hands. The gypsy's eyes narrowed, his hand rested uneasily upon his belt.

"Yes, I want that diamond!"

Breathless, applause still ringing in her ears, Consuelo jumped down from the wooden platform into the darkness. Her hands were filled with silver, the pocket in her skirt was heavy. Money—money! She was laughing inside. She wanted to fling the coins into the air and pick them up again. On the last encore they had tried to hit her ankles. Little stinging pricks against her legs. When the dance was over and she was picking up the money one big fellow tossed a silver dollar and it went down the neck of her blouse. How they laughed and she laughed with them. Now she emptied her hands into her pocket and reached for the dollar. It was warm and wet.

Someone brushed against her in the darkness.

"Pretty good dancer, ain't you?" It was the low voice of the sheriff. She did not answer. "How about keeping your promise to me? I'll meet you down at the bridge." He was pushing against her and then his arms were around her and his lips upon her neck.

The girl slid from his clumsy embrace and her hand reached out and slapped him across the face.

"Pig! Dog of a white man!" The words were in Romanay.

"Eh? Eh, what's that you say?" She laughed and ran away quickly.

The lights were friendly now, good things to have about you. She went out the entrance of the fair grounds to join the rest of the band when Marcu called to her. At first she did not see him for he stood in the shadows.

"Consuelo, come here!"

"I have had enough kisses for tonight!"

"I will not kiss you now, I promise. I have something for you."

"A 10-cent bracelet, I suppose," she scoffed, but nevertheless crossed to him.

"What is it?"

"I can't show you here. I'll go to the camp. You sneak away from the others and follow in a few minutes—and don't bring that Dummy with you either!"

Impulsively he placed his hand on her shoulder. "You'll like what I have for you, my dear one." With that he was gone.

Consuelo shrugged her shoulders. She crossed to where Voda stood with the little honey bear. There were a few children around him but most of the people were still inside the fair grounds. Honey came rushing up to her, his funny black eyes begging, his paws held up. She pulled his ears and boxed his nose and the little bear sat down with a thud and the children laughed.

She seated herself beside Voda on the wooden box and the honey curdled up at her feet and closed his black beady eyes.

"He likes you," said Voda.

Consuelo nodded.

Voda leaned closer to her.

"Everybody likes you." He began to play with the money in his pocket.

"The gorgias were rich for a night. Honey and I made lots of money. Enough money—here!"

He held it out in the palm of his hand—"to buy a pair of earrings, or a necklace, or silk for a blouse or a scarf." He placed his free hand over hers. "Enough money here to buy a kiss?"

"No." But she let his hand linger.

"I will have more when the people come out of the fair. Honey is resting, but when they come out I will wake him and make him roll and stick out his pink tongue and dance on his hind feet. I will set him on

"Gambling." George M. Cohan's starring picture now showing at the Grand Theatre, was directed by a man who knows his mystery films. Rowland V. Lee, brought from Hollywood to New York to handle "Gambling" at an eastern studio, is well known as the director of "Underworld," "The Mystery of Fu Manchu" and other screen thrillers.

AT THE CLIFTONA

Audiences who see W. C. Fields in Paramount's "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch," which is now playing at the Cliftona Theatre, will catch a mementary glimpse of a Fields they will not recognize—a youthful, dark-haired and dashing young man, who represents Fields as he was thirty years ago.

Playing the role of the bachelor whom the famous "Miss Hazy," played by ZaSu Pitts, woos through a matrimonial bureau, Fields discovered that the role called for a picture of a young man to be received by the impressionable spinster lady.

Fields located an "art" study of himself, made in Cape Town, South Africa, when he was a young man and a tramp juggler, and Director Norman Taurog drafted it for use in the picture.

Poems That Live

NIGHT

Night is the time for rest;

How sweet, when labors close,

To gather round an aching breast

The curtain of repose.

Stretch the tired limbs, and lay the head

Down on our own delightful bed!

Night is the time for dreams;

The gay romance of life,

When truth that is, and truth that seems,

Blend in fantastic strife;

Ah! visions, less beguiling far

Than waking dreams by daylight are!

Night is the time to pray;

Our Saviour oft withdrew

To desert mountains far away;

So will his followers do—

Steal from the throng to haunts untrod,

And hold communion there with God.

POLITICAL HOOLIGANS

(Columbus Dispatch)

At a certain railway restaurant belonging to the Russian state system complaints of verminous food have been filed. Local political officials decided to fit the punishment to the offense, as they saw it. Therefore, they ordered that the staff of the restaurant be forced to eat a rather repulsive soup. This was done under protest.

It is to the credit of the supreme commissars when they heard of the incident that they ordered severe punishment meted out to the local officials. The charge was "political hooliganism."

Certainly the charge was broad enough. In far-off Russia, a country we are prone to credit with a form of political thought benighted and perverted, the heads of the state sometimes can think clearly. At least they labeled the act of the local officials by a particularly appropriate name.

Inadvertently, and certainly without thought that the term might be of value to the citizens of this country, they have coined a phrase which might be aptly applied to any number of the gentry that are floating about the body politic in the United States in the self-styled role of statesmen.

MISCONCEPTION OF INFORMATORY DOUBLES

ONE EXPECTS players in a whist club to understand proper use of informative doubles, which have been in common use for the past 20 years. Yet last night an old member of one of the leading card clubs in New York City abominably misused such a double, and with both sides vulnerable and game within his grasp, diamonds justified supporting no trumps. Instead of either passing or venturing 2-No Trumps, North raised to 3-Hearts upon his three small cards of that suit. North never would have supported an opening bid on three low cards of his partner's suit, and yet he obliged his partner to bid, and then supported him. There was nothing left for South to do except bid 4-Hearts. West doubled the call.

The opening lead was the 3 of diamonds, which appeared like a formidable card. East played his 7, over the 2 from dummy. South's 10 won the trick. A low heart was returned. West played low. East's lone Ace won. Back came a diamond, and West ruffed the declarer's Ace. Then he took his two top trumps, cleaning dummy of hearts.

Four heart tricks and the Ace of clubs put down the contract two tricks, doubled when vulnerable.

Had the hand been played at 3-No Trumps there should have been game. Three spade tricks, four diamond tricks and two club tricks, against any defense, or nine tricks without touching hearts. That was some difference from what happened on account of North's unaccountable support of hearts.

In the same club, earlier in the day, South dealt himself this hand:

♠ K 10 8 4 3 ♣ 9 2
♥ 9 3 ♦ A 8 3

He passed. His partner made an opening bid of 1-No Trump. South then bid 3-Spades. North passed. East overcalled with 5-Clubs. What should South do, and why? Answer will appear tomorrow.

condition, there are many simple non-time-consuming procedures that can be done daily. It is easy to get in the habit of doing them daily in life, so that they fit into the regular routine and are pleasures rather than duties or burdens.

The first and most important of these is to have well fitting and appropriate foot gear. But we have discussed that so often in this department that today we will pass it over.

The next is to form proper habits of walking and standing, but that also has been much discussed.

Rest and exercise of the feet should both be practiced, and balanced according to the need of the individual. Those who have to spend most of their days on their feet will naturally need more foot rest than exercise.

Foot exercises we will discuss tomorrow. Here let me emphasize rest.

"Take the load off your feet." In the expressive phrase, is a good thing to do. The American position of the feet on the desk is a good way to do this. But it is better done with the foot covering off, so the bones can have some play and get back into position. Lying on the back, with the feet resting on the wall or the foot of the bed for a few minutes at night, and in the morning, is utterly refreshing. Wiggle the toes, rotate the ankle, crack the joints, let the blood drain out of them, put the weight on the back and off the feet a while.

Massage is a good adjunct to this. Everybody can do it for himself. Rub the bones around. Rub the muscles of the foreleg. Incidentally, the procedure is good for insomnia.

POISON KILLS 2 IN NEWARK; OTHERS SICK

Aged Man, Boy Die; Food-stuffs, Tablets Examined By Chemists

NEWARK, March 11—Authorities today attempted to trace the source of the poison which took the lives of an aged man and a boy and caused the illness of two other persons in the Frank Johnson household here.

Canned foodstuffs and medicine tablets found in the home will be examined by chemists, police said. Victims of the poisoning were Warren Thompson, 76, of Hanover, and his 11-year-old grandson, William Johnson. The boy's father, Frank Johnson, 31, was removed to city hospital and was reported in a critical condition.

Mrs. Bessie Hupp, 40, the housekeeper at the Johnson home since Mrs. Johnson died two weeks ago, was stricken ill after eating dinner at the Johnson home Friday and also was believed to be suffering from the effects of poison. Her illness handicapped the police investigation temporarily.

The tragedy was discovered when Frank Kelly, a relative of the Johnsons, went to the home to invite members of the motherless household to Sunday dinner. When no one answered his knock, Kelly forced the front door.

He found Frank Johnson writhing in pain on a floor and rushed out to call police and a doctor. Returning, he found the aged man dead in a chair fully clothed and the boy's body was in a bed in an upstairs room.

Physicians under the direction of Coroner John C. Thompson conducted an immediate autopsy and said poison was responsible. City Chemist A. T. Kaiser was to examine home-canned beans and tomatoes today to determine whether they were tainted.

Contest Over Estate of Reynolds Starts Today

WINSTON SALEM, N. C., March 11—The battle between Anne Cannon Reynolds and Libby Holman, two wives of the late Z. Smith Reynolds, over the division of the $25,000,000 estate of the young sportsman and aviator, was scheduled to begin in Forsyth court today before Judge Clayton Moore.

The two former wives of Reynolds, who died under mysterious circumstances at his home here July 6, 1932, seek the major portion of the tobacco heir's estate for their respective children.

Reynolds married Libby Holman, Broadway blues singer, after his divorce from the former Anne Cannon in Reno.

Fight Settlement
The highlight of the hearing is expected to be the stiff opposition of J. F. Cannon, father of the first Mrs. Cannon, to the proposed settlement of the estate made by the brother and sisters of Smith Reynolds. Cannon is fighting the settlement on the grounds that the estate would be subject to federal and state inheritance taxes totaling $15,000,000, thereby reducing the value of the holdings to $10,000,000.

Some fifteen attorneys are gathered here for the hearing on

JURY TO HOLD INSULL FATE LATER IN DAY

Former Utilities Magnate Charged With Embezzling $66,000 Sum

CHICAGO, March 11—The fate of Samuel Insull, former utilities czar, once more will rest with a jury.

Insull, on trial on a charge of embezzling $66,000 from the Middle West Utilities company, was recently acquitted by a federal jury of charges of using the mails to defraud in connection with the collapse of his power empire.

Insull was to be subjected to cross-examination today, closing the testimony. Final arguments will probably be limited to one hour for each side, indicating the case will go to the jury late today.

The state charges Insull fraudulently used $66,000 of Middle West funds to bolster brokerage accounts of his brother, Martin Insull.

FAVORS EARLY LAWN SEEDING

If the lawn is to be seeded in the spring, it should be done as early in March as possible, early enough so that several freezings and thawings will cover the seed, in the opinion of George M. McClure, agronomist of the Ohio State University.

McClure says the quality of the seed is important. All seed that is sold in Ohio must be labeled, he says, adding, avoid all mixtures containing Canada bluegrass, orchard grass, or timothy, or seed containing more than one-half of one per cent of weed seeds.

For general lawn use, according to McClure, a good mixture is one containing 60 per cent Kentucky bluegrass and 20 per cent red top. For shady lawns Chewings fescue is satisfactory.

For satisfactory results a fertilizer should be applied a week before the seed is sown. McClure recommends about 20 pounds of 4-12-4 mixture for each 1000 square feet of lawn.

CLAUDE AUGUSTUS SWANSON is no more Secretary of the Navy than Dern is Secretary of War. Not only is he in the hands of his Admirals, but also he is in the hands of the President.

Roosevelt, for eight years assistant secretary of the Navy, cannot resist poking his fingers continually into his old Department.

Swanson is heart and soul a big Navy man, but probably if he had had his hand on things he would not have permitted collusion in the award of cruiser contracts. He has been thoroughly worried by the disclosures of the Senate Munitions Committee.

He is fond of talking about the birds, the flowers, the trees, morality—anything except the subject at hand. An ardent prohibitionist, Roper now fumbles at a cocktail, although no one can be quite sure whether any of it passes down his gullet.

HENRY WALLACE, one of the most idealistic New Dealers, is not a happy man. He has parked some of his ideals on the shelf and has decided to go along on a course of political expediency.

For all practical purposes, Chester Davis, Administrator of the AAA, is now Secretary of Agriculture. Wallace is loved for his charm, his naivete, his simplicity of manner, his idealism, but he has lost some of the respect he once commanded.

FRANCES PERKINS, Secretary of Labor, is one of the hardest-working members of the official family, but also one of the most unhappy. She has done a good job in the social phases of her work—child and female labor, labor statistics, unemployment exchange, etc., but she has been "boxed" on the most important work of all—labor conciliation.

In this field first General Johnson, then Donald Richberg, and to a certain extent Francis Biddle have completely thwarted her.

TIGERS DRAW SOUTH QUINT; DARBY LOSES

Columbus Team Is Foe of Locals at 7:30 Thursday In Coliseum

Columbus South, coached by Harley "Chick" Pearce, former Ohio Wesleyan star, will be the Circleville foe in the first round of the district class basketball tournament to start in Columbus Thursday. The game starts at 7:30 p. m. and a large crowd of Circleville fans including all the "Stooges" are expected to be present when the Tigers trot onto the Coliseum court.

The drawing was made Saturday, in the office of Commissioner H. R. Townsend, kingfish of Ohio basketball.

Circleville was represented by Ervin Carlisle, of Delaware.

The tournament opens at 3 o'clock with Grandview, Centerville and Lancaster.

The first round schedule follows: 4 p. m. Aquinas vs. West. 5 p. m. Marion vs. North. 6:30 Mt. Vernon vs. Bexley. 7:30 Circleville vs. South. 8:30 Central vs. Westerville. 9:30, East vs. Delaware. Newark drew a bye.

The Tigers have been playing mighty good ball in their recent starts and may make things tough for the favored South hi team. Two cagers, Tapia and Freeman, are South's best.

Drubbing Pleasant-twp in the first round, the cagers of Darby, after elimination of Scioto and Walnut teams, took it on the chin at the hands of the Fairfield co team, Liberty Union, in the class B meet at Westerville.

The score was 39-25.

Dizzy explained "they got me all wrong in the papers." As for the baseball game, the Cincinnati Reds walloped Ruth's Boston Braves 12 to 1. Two young rookie southpaws, Hollingsworth, Richmond, held the honors for the Reds. Hollingsworth held the great Babe to a pop fly.

INDIANS NEED WORK
NEW ORLEANS, La., March 11—Plainly showing their lack of practice, the Cleveland Indians eked out a 7 to 5 win here yesterday over the New Orleans Pelicans. The game was the Indians' first real workout in three days, having been kept inside by rain since last Thursday. A youngster named Milton McIntyre, a product of the University of California, was the standout of the rookie squad. He showed real hitting ability against the Pelicans.

Estell's Five Victorious As Allen Wins Numeral

By Joe Wright

A pair of Pickaway-co students at Ohio State university, Ansell Estell and Harold Allen, had a successful week-end in intramural athletics. Estell's Alpha Gamma Sigma basketball team captured the University Class B championship and Allen earned his numerals on the freshman wrestling squad.

From the time Estell sank the first basket from under the net on a fast-break play which characterized the Pickaway-twp team a few years back, the Alpha Gams held a slight lead throughout the game winning 15-13. The Pickaway-co basketball team proved to be one of the strongest and most accurate passers in the University circles this year.

BOWLS 738 PINS

COLUMBUS, March 11—Bowling nine consecutive strikes in his final game, Alex Graham of New Philadelphia, today had annexed the men's Class A crown in the bowling tournament held at Adams Recreation Palace here.

The nine strikes gave him a 267 score for the final game, and with a 247 and a 224 in his first 20 frames, he piled up a total score of 738. It was the highest mark ever hit by any tournament participant in the events here.

His performance easily was the outstanding of the last two days of the meet and a large gallery watched him bowl. Final standings in other events will be announced by sponsors of the meet Thursday.

CHAMP READY TO RISK TITLE WITH GERMAN

"Up to Public", Baer Says Learning of Schmeling Victory Over Hamas

ROSEVILLE, Cal., March 11—"If the public wants the match," Max Baer will certainly meet Max Schmeling in a rematch for the title.

"Why not," the gay Lothario of the prize ring queried after receiving the news Schmeling polished off Steve Hamas in nine rounds at Hamburg.

"I'll fight Frankenstein if I can make any money," Baer boasted. The champion's manager, Art Hoeman, agreed with his fighter that a championship bout with Schmeling was acceptable "if the public wants the match."

Just when and where the Baer-Schmeling rematch will be staged, neither Baer nor Hoffman could say.

"If Madison Square Garden can't get Schmeling, it looks like the June fight in New York is off and our contract with the Garden is null and void," said Hoffman.

"In that case, we can't pass up the original offer of $250,000 tendered by Walter Rothenberg, the German promoter for a Baer-Schmeling match in Germany. Especially if the quarter of a million is deposited in an American bank. Naturally, we want an option of 40 per cent of the gate receipts."

OWEN'S HEALTH WORRIES TIGERS

LAKELAND, Fla., March 11—

Detroit Tiger hopes were dealt a shattering blow today when Manager Mickey Cochrane received a telegram from Marvin Owen, flashy third baseman, at Hot Springs, which informed him that "Marv" has undergone a sinus operation and will be unable to report in Lakeland until Thursday.

The regular third sacker, who came through in such fine style last year and rounded out one of the best infielders in either league, was counted upon to assume the third-base burden again this year. Just what his condition will be when he shows up Thursday, Manager Cochrane was unwilling to guess. He did, however, roam the local hotel lobby heavy with thought.

MAN, 26, KILLED

Opponents of TVA Plan to Continue Fight Following Decision in Their Favor

Judge Grubb Known for Strict Legal Interpretations

By ROBERT H. BROWN
Central Press Correspondent
BIRMINGHAM, Ala., March 11.—Opponents of the government's Tennessee Valley Authority intend to press their opposition with all the energy in their power—fol-seriously and time and again he has refused newspapermen features and pictures of himself.

"It is not dignified for a judge, in my estimation," he once told this writer.
He has held the bench here for 25 years, and is a graduate of Harvard. He attended Cincinnati Law school and was a friend of the Tafts. His appointment to federal bench in the northern Alabama dis-

Federal Judge W. I. Grubb

lowing up the decision of Federal Judge W. I. Grubb that the TVA cannot compete against private companies in the sale of electricity. Even though the government is carrying its appeal to the highest courts, the opponents are confident. They plan to file as many suits as possible to harass the TVA in all its operations.

Behind the opposition, of course, are virtually the united public utilities of the United States.

In rendering an oral decision calling the TVA program illegal, Judge Grubb lived up to tradition. He is respected highly in Birmingham, but is known as a judge who will render a decision according to the law as he sees it regardless of the effects or the broad social consequences.

Old Enough to Retire
Judge Grubb is old enough to retire from the bench, yet he refuses. Once, according to the story among lawyers here, he told a group of lawyers who supposedly were after his job, that they need not be expecting him to resign. "The only way I'll leave here is when they take me out to the cemetery," they say he told them.

A man of small stature, Judge Grubb leads a secluded life, yet he is as well known as the head of the city commission. He takes his job strict was made by President William Howard Taft.

He has held many important honorary positions and has sat in on many important cases. He was a member of the Wickersham commission.

Another NRA Case Appealed
Another of Judge Grubb's decisions is up now before the U. S. supreme court. Judge Grubb held the NRA code for the lumber and timber industry unconstitutional. Appeal was, of course, taken by the government.

That case was brought before Judge Grubb when W. B. Belcher, a lumber manufacturer, was indicted on a charge that he worked employees more hours than the code allowed and below the minimum wage scale. The lumberman charged that enforcement of the code meant disaster to him and would take his property without due process of the law and that the NRA was illegal. Judge Grubb sustained this contention.

That Grubb is an anti-New Dealer naturally appears on the surface to the layman, judging from his two NRA decisions. But such is not the case. Lawyer friends say he is an admirer of President Roosevelt, and is very much in favor of the methods Roosevelt is using. To Judge Grubb, though, his personal opinion means nothing when it comes to making a decision. He goes back to the law books and that law-minded brain of his, attorneys say.

His favorite hobby is reading metropolitan newspapers. He likes to read the New York papers and every day he goes to his favorite news stand for the Gotham sheets.
His wife is an active clubwoman in Alabama.

Keeps Clear Docket
Alabama attorneys admire Judge Grubb for one thing among many. Judge Grubb keeps a clear, orderly docket. When a case is scheduled to be heard it usually is heard. At the opening of a term of court he has a certain number of cases to be heard—and they are heard! Once he was called to New York to hold court and was shocked at the lax manner in which court was conducted there. He did not like the idea of lawyers straggling into court around 11 o'clock.

Judge Grubb announced: "Gentlemen, we've got a docket to clear. We're going to clear it. Tomorrow morning, and every morning thereafter, court will convene at 8 o'clock."

Immediately the lawyers protested. They shouted excuses that they couldn't make it at 8 o'clock. Attorneys commuting from the outlying sections said they had to travel too far.

"Gentlemen, I realize your predicament. But I live in Birmingham, Ala., and I intend to be here at 8 o'clock, and if I can be here on time you can, too," he is said to have replied. After that court convened at 8 o'clock for the duration of the term.

Cabinet, Political and Economic Organization, Receives Appraisal

WASHINGTON — For two years, ten people have entered the White House regularly every Tuesday and Friday sit at a long mahogany table with Franklin Roosevelt and discuss with him the problems of the New Deal.

These ten comprise the greatest conglomeration of political faiths and economic walks of life ever to make up a Cabinet: two Republicans, one Hooverite, one New Englander, two from the solid South, one Far Westerner, one woman, one New York Jew, and one Tammany Democrat.

How have they come through the ordeal of the first two years? Have they developed, grown in stature, or become deflated? Here is an appraisal of them at mid-term.

CORDELL HULL—Secretary of State and number one man in the Cabinet, still is downcast because he thinks he does not get proper support from the White House, but still is fighting for the one goal of his life—reduced tariffs.

And he is finally beginning to get somewhere.

Aside from his reciprocity treatment, Hull is not absorbed in the general foreign policies of the United States, and his State Department pretty well runs itself—though sometimes very badly. He is slow, roundabout, extremely sensitive to criticism; but once he sets his mind on an objective he gets there, no matter how long it takes.

HENRY MORGENTHAU—Secretary of the Treasury, is one who if asked by Franklin Roosevelt to get a slice of the moon, would struggle desperately to reach it.

He remains the Cabinet member closest to the President. His ideas are Roosevelt's ideas. His acts are Roosevelt's acts.

Morgenthau has got over his initial nervousness, and has turned out to be a first class executive. He would be better if he did not take too many details to the White House.

GEORGE DERN—Secretary of War, continues to be one of the most pleasant, conscientious members of the Cabinet. But he is Secretary of War merely in name. General Douglas MacArthur runs the War Department, has become so necessary to Dern that he urged his reappointment as Chief of Staff.

From the Army's point of view, Dern is an ideal Secretary. He gives them what they want.

HOMER CUMMINGS, Attorney General, is the most genial and good-natured member of the official family. Next to Farley he is also the most politically-minded. Political considerations count more with him than those of merit, and as a result his appointments are among the worst in the New Deal.

Cummings' Justice Department is more steeped in red tape than any other, and important law cases move forward with the slowness of a tortoise, without that creature's perseverance.

In recent months, Homer has built up a barrage of publicity regarding his work of curbing gangsters which has successfully thrown the spotlight away from his other defects.

JAMES ALOYSIUS FARLEY, Postmaster General, still remains the most battered member of the Cabinet, though his unequivocal check at Huey Long has partly restored his badly plucked plumage.

Jim has kept off the political firing line as far as possible and is trying to rebuild the efficiency of his Post Office Department, which suffered sadly during his peregrinations about the country. He has adopted the cue of lying low and saying little.

However, he is still besieged by jobholders and it is doubtful whether anyone who is both Postmaster General and a Congressman can survive. Continued on Page Five

SHORT BEGINS AUDITOR JOB; 4 AIDES BUSY

Appoints Ned Dresbach As Deputy Sealer of Weights, Measures

TAX RUSH IS ON

Krinn Ends 17 Years of County Service

Forrest Short and his crew of deputies officially took over the auditor's office today replacing Clifford M. White and his deputies. Short, Wayne-twp resident, is the first Republican auditor for Pickaway-co has had since prior to the turn of the century.

He defeated Mr. White last November. As he took office Short announced the appointment of Ned H. Dresbach, son of Mr. and Mrs. Emmanuel Dresbach, Watt-st., as deputy sealer of weights and measures. Dresbach, a graduate of Circleville high school, is 25 years of age.

Short's other appointments were announced a week ago.

Tipton is Chief

They are Fred L. Tipton, Williamsport, as chief deputy succeeding Tom D. Krinn; John Mesick, Ashville, replacing Leo White, and Mark Armstrong, W. Mount-st., taking the place of Mrs. Frank Littleton. Dresbach succeeds Claude Aler as deputy sealer.

Short's first duty today was acting as clerk for the commissioners while every one else was kept busy taking care of personal tax reports. A crowd of persons, many driven into town because it was too wet to do any farm work, lined the counters all day filing their reports, then paying their taxes at the treasurer's office.

Tom D. Krinn, who Saturday wound up his work as deputy auditor, was busy today handling the old age pension business of the county. This work has become important because there are now 490 persons receiving monthly checks in Pickaway-co. Checks amount to $5,926.50 every month.

Krinn's office is over the Paul Johnson printing office, S. Court-st.

Served 17 Years

The former deputy is without a doubt one of the best educated men in Ohio as far as auditor's work is concerned. He has served for more than 17 years either as auditor or as deputy.

He first took office as auditor Oct. 15, 1917. He served five years and four months as auditor then was deputy for eight years under Bryce Briggs and for four years under Clifford White.

Mrs. Frank Littleton, who also retires from the office, served for eight years as a deputy for Mr. Briggs and four years for Mr. White. She was also very efficient in the stenographic work of the office.

Mr. Krinn plans to go to Columbus Tuesday to learn just what can be done for the pension office. A sum of $84 monthly is now being paid for the work here. Mr. Krinn dividing this money with other persons in the auditor's office who helped him.

VILLAGES RECEIVE AUTO TAG CHECKS

A distribution of automobile license tag money was received at the office of Auditor Forrest Short, Monday. Checks will be sent to the various villages Tuesday.

The sums include: County, $6,909; Circleville, $1,250; Ashville, $200; Commercial Point, $25; New Holland, $75; South Bloomfield, $25; Tilton, $25; and Williamsport $75.

4 Children Named

In Gardner Estate

Their children are beneficiaries of the estate of the late Ovid and Luella Gardner, Salter-creek-twp, according to papers filed in probate court today.

The children are Frederick L. Grace A., Fannie and Ovid M. The estate of the father is worth $23,300 and the mother $5,500. Appraisers are Jacob Roll, Walter Parker and Lewis Crawford.

FORFEITS $5 BOND

Paul Frazier, milling company employee, forfeited $5 bond for intoxication in Mayor W. B. Cady's court, Monday.

HEAVY RAINS AID FARMERS

More Than Inch Recorded Over Weekend; Planting to Start Soon

Pickaway-co farmlands, still feeling the effect of last summer's drought, received a needed bath prior to the spring planting season during the week-end. The rain was general through the state.

Rain falling here prior to noon today totalled almost one and one-quarter inches.

The rains were heaviest in the southern part of the state where 1.34 inches were reported during the last 24 hours.

Unsettled conditions will continue for the next 24 hours with a slight drop in temperature expected tonight.

High temperature here Sunday was 56 degrees with the temperature falling to 39 during the night.

BRUNO MUST PAY FOR OWN APPEAL

TRENTON, N. J., March 11.—Bruno Richard Hauptmann's appeal will be paid for by the defense, and not by the state of New Jersey, it was learned today.

The surprising announcement was made by Defense Attorney Frederick A. Pope, who said "there never was any thought that the state would pay for the printing of the trial record." Asked why Hauptmann had signed a pauper's oath, Pope said, "we would have had to reimburse the state anyway."

Pope said he expected to confer with Attorney General David T. Wilentz at his office today, "for a few minutes."

ROOM IS LEASED

Mr. and Mrs. T. P. Brown have leased their storeroom at 137 W. Main-st to the Tompkins Ice Cream Co., Columbus, which will take possession April 1.

Charles Beck has moved his meat market to the Washington bakery building now owned by Mrs. Howard Irwin.

New Arrivals

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Smith, S. Pickaway-st., announce the birth of a son, Sunday night.

WILEY POST READY

Woman Electrocuted

Sitting in Bathtub

WASHINGTON, March 11.—Inserting an electric vibrator into a floor socket as she sat in a bathtub filled with water, Mrs. Margaret Blair Porter, 35, was electrocuted in front of her two-year-old daughter. William Renn, of Shamokin, Pa., a brother, heard her cries and notified a physician. Two other brothers, Walter Renn, of Shamokin, and Eugene Renn, of Harrisburg, and a sister, Mrs. Betty Poore, also survive.

EARL WEAVER NEW DEPUTY

To Be Appointed By Radcliff As Soon As Custer Officially Quits

Sheriff Charles Radcliffe, Monday afternoon, was ready to appoint Earl W. Weaver, 156 W. High-st., as his deputy to succeed Bryan J. Custer who today started his work as a deputy United States marshal under Kenneth Kerr, Columbus.

The only thing holding up Weaver's appointment was Custer's formal resignation as deputy sheriff. This was supposed to take place Monday afternoon. Custer was sworn in as a federal officer Saturday.

BIG BOB NOW 30

Deputy Bob Armstrong, who is starting his fifth year with Sheriff, Charles Radcliffe, reached his thirtieth birthday anniversary Sunday. A surprise party was staged at the home of his parents.

Heir's appointment was Custer's formal resignation as deputy sheriff. This was supposed to take place Monday afternoon. Custer was sworn in as a federal officer Saturday.

Weaver, a native of Pickaway-twp and a resident of Pickaway-co practically his entire life, was selected from more than 300 applicants for the position which pays $125 per month. The chief deputy's jobs include regular crime, prevention duties in addition to all the bookkeeping for the office.

The sheriff's selection is 32 years of age and a son of Cliff W. and Jesse Shook Weaver. His mother is deceased.

Weaver graduated from the local high school in 1921 then served four years in Uncle Sam's navy being honorably discharged in 1925.

The selection is certain to be a popular one since Weaver has many friends who will be pleased to greet him in the sheriff's office.

MILK PRODUCERS, DISTRIBUTORS TO DEMAND INCREASE

COLUMBUS, March 11.—Representatives of Pickaway-co milk producers and distributors will appear before the state milk commission at 3:30 p. m. tomorrow to ask an increase in prices.

They are seeking an increase of 35 cents a hundredweight, from $1.75 to $2.10 in the price paid to farmers, and a boost from nine to ten cents a quart in the price to consumers, according to Dr. C. G. McBride, secretary of the milk commission.

Distributors claim they are unable to compete with manufacturers who are offering as high as $2.05 and $2.10 a hundredweight for milk in the area. They contend the supply available for Circleville and other communities is threatened, unless they are permitted to increase the price paid to farmers.

ROPE ONLY STUCK

There was nothing wrong at the straw-barn at 12:30 p. m. today when the whistle sounded for such a long time at noon—the rope which blows the whistle was only stuck.

NEGRO, KILLER OF TWO, IS EXECUTED

RICHMOND, Va., March 11.—Philip Jones, negro, was electrocuted in the state penitentiary for brutally killing Alice and Ellen Hill, sisters, 13 and nine, respectively.

The bodies of the children were found near Jones' house at Clifton Forge, Va., where they had been sent to deliver a telephone message to the negro.

LOYAL TROOPS SMASH REBEL ARMY ON LAND

Backbone of Grecian Revolt Believed Broken; 3,000 Captured

WARSHIP IS TAKEN

State of War Now Existing in Cuba

ATHENS, Mar. 11.—Collapse of the Greek revolution on land was claimed by the government today.

Rebels were reported in full flight after loyal troops had captured a wide area east of the Struma river, including the rebel cities of Seres, Drama, Demirhisir, and Kavalla.

The government announced the capture of 3,000 prisoners at Seres. The remainder of the rebels, under General Camenos, were said to be retreating in disorder towards the mountains in the east.

Forty officers of the garrison at Salonika, accused of conspiring with the rebels, nearly were lynched by loyalists as they arrived in Athens under arrest.

The government also announced a victory on the sea, frustrating an attempt by the rebels' stolen fleet to come to the aid of the land revolt.

Ship Abandoned

Rebel officers and members of the crew of the cruiser Helle abandoned the vessel at Kavalla after a heavy bombardment by government vessels and land batteries.

Loyalist officers immediately took possession of the Helle, which was expected to proceed immediately to Salonika, headquarters of the government's land forces.

Communist officers, according to the government, were found to be in charge of some of the rebels when 150 were taken prisoners in the drive towards Seres.

HAVANA, March 11.—Determined to put down by drastic measures the revolutionary strike that has already tied up the island with half a million workers participating, the cabinet today issued an emergency decree declaring that a "state of war" exists throughout the republic.

The decree means that a drastic military regime will hold power in Cuba until order is restored.

Streets Deserted

The capital was outwardly calm today, but intermittent shots and bomb explosions rang through the dark, deserted streets during the night.

BURGLARS LOOT CASKEY'S PLACE

The Caskey restaurant, Washington and Corwin-sts., was broken into Sunday night and several cartons of cigarettes and between 200 and 300 pennies were stolen.

The thieves broke a window on the Corwin-st side of the building and gained entrance.

THREE RELEASED

Reba Edwards, 20, Viola Stewart, 20, and Esther Stewart, 11, all of the Stoutsville vicinity, were arrested by officers Saturday evening for shoplifting in Stiffers' and Funk's stores but were released when no charges were placed against them.

DIES IN BALTIMORE

Dr. John Ruhrah, internationally known expert on children's diseases, and a brother of Harry Ruhrah, former Western Union operator here, was dead in Baltimore, Md. today.

A sister, Mrs. Howard Veal, Chillicothe, also survives.

Nine Hunted in Lake Erie

BAYFIELD, Wis., Mar. 11.—The Bayfield, Wis., Mar. 11.—The U. S. coast guard cutter Crawford ploughed the icy waters of Lake Superior today, searching for three fishermen adrift on an ice floe.

The trio, A. N. Anderson, A. R. Holman and Louis Rowe, all of Washburn, Wis., with a fourth companion, Britton Day, had gone far out on the ice to fish for trout. A floe, 150 feet in diameter, suddenly broke off from the main body of ice, drifted out into the lake.

Day was not caught on the drifting piece. He rushed to Bayfield for help, but when rescuers re-

COPS BAFFLED; 26 SEWER LIDS LOST

CHICAGO, Mar. 11.—Mystified policemen could be heard mutter and growl "now, who would want 26 sewer lids," as they diligently scoured the city today.

Twenty-six manhole covers, each weighing 35 pounds and bearing the inscription "City of Chicago," were purloined from south side streets over the week-end.

"Maybe it was a drunk," hopefully suggested a detective sergeant.

"One lid, yes. But no drunk would take 26 sewer lids," squeaked the captain.

"Maybe it was 26 drunks," returned the sergeant.

PROF. GILL'S WIFE CALLED

Dies at 58 After Heart Attack; Funeral Services Wednesday

Mrs. Florence Gill, 58, wife of Prof. John H. Gill, widely known instructor of music, died early Monday at her home, 37 W. 2nd-ave, Columbus, after a heart attack.

The Gills are well known in this city. Prof. Gill having directed several bands here a number of years. Mrs. Gill was a Circleville native.

Besides her husband, she is survived by a daughter, Ariel; three sisters, Mrs. Charles L. Mack, this city; Mrs. Emily Smythe, Indianapolis, and Mrs. Mina Shope, Iron-ton, and two brothers, Ambrose and Oliver, Bitzer, this city.

The remains may be viewed at the mortuary of Glenn L. Myers, Columbus, where services will be held Wednesday at 2 p. m. with Rev. M. M. Witter officiating. Burial will be in Forest cemetery. Friends who wish to view the remains here may do so at about 3:45 p. m. in the chapel at Forest cemetery.

DENY ATTEMPT TO MURDER POPE

LONDON, Mar. 11.—Paris reports that an attempt had been made to assassinate Pope Pius were laughed off today in a Reuter's dispatch from Rome.

"The old Mexican custom of carrying daggers led to alarmist reports of an attempt to assassinate the Pope," said Reuters.

"A Mexican student who sought an audience was searched and found to be in possession of a dagger."

"A police investigation revealed that there was nothing against the student, and he was released."

PARIS, March 11.—Pope Pius XI experienced a narrow escape from assassination at the hands of a Mexican, according to Rome dispatch published today in the Paris newspaper Le Jour.

The paper said the Mexican was arrested after he asked Vatican authorities for an audience with the Pope.

A long, thin dagger, that had been recently sharpened, was found concealed in his shirt, said Le Jour.

Hospital News

Lloyd Hafer, E. Franklin-st., who had been undergoing treatment since Thursday, was discharged Sunday from Berger hospital.

FLUE CATCHES FIRE

Firemen were called to the E. B. Copeland home, W. Mount-st., at 4 p. m. Sunday, when a flue caught on fire.

Blames His Mother

Richard Kloes

Mrs. Elizabeth Kloes

When Richard Kloes was arrested by Buffalo police for slaying his father with a shotgun, the boy is reported to have told them he killed because his mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Kloes, wanted him killed because he was bad. Son and mother are pictured. Authorities said Mrs. Kloes would be charged with the murder and the boy absolved of any blame.

WELL KNOWN WOMAN DIES

Wife of John White, Williamsport, Succumbs Sunday of Complications

Mrs. Annie White, 59, Williamsport, died Sunday at 5 p. m. of complications. She was born April 23, 1875 a daughter of James and Mary Chittum Blizard.

Besides her husband, John, she is survived by the following children, Mrs. Jesse Straley, Williamsport; Walter, Black Lick; Miss Mary, teacher in the Gabanna schools, and Mrs. Carrie Crile, teacher in Akron, and a sister, Mrs. George Timmons, Columbus.

The funeral will be held Wednesday at 2 p. m. at the Williamsport Methodist church, of which she was an active member, with Rev. W. A. Moore officiating. Burial will be in Springlawn cemetery by C. E. Hill.

FEAR AVIATOR LAKE'S VICTIM

CLEVELAND, March 11.—Fear that Milton Lampl, missing 23-year-old army flyer, may have plunged to his death in Lake Erie while battling a "pea-soup" fog last night was expressed today by Major John Berry, Cleveland airport commander.

Major Berry said that Lampl, who has not been seen or heard from since leaving Cleveland last night, probably took a short cut across the corner of Lake Erie at Toledo while enroute to Selfridge field.

If that were the case, chances of finding the flyer alive are remote. Berry said Lampl had only enough gasoline to last him until midnight.

Six army planes, two national guard craft, and commercial ships today were making a detailed search of the area between Toledo and Victory, O., near Sandusky where the drone of an airplane motor was heard last night.

FISH IS ON TRIAL

WHITE PLAINS, March 11.—Trial of Albert H. Fish, 65, for the monstrous murder of 10-year old Grace Budd, began here today at 10:16 a. m. before Supreme Court Justice Frederick P. Close.

The water-eyed little defendant, who is in a tight corner at the prospect of the electric chair, trembled violently as he was half-carried into the courtroom by two deputies. He cringed in his chair, eyes closed, as the trial opened.

MISS PHILLIPS WRECK VICTIM; IS IN HOSPITAL

Vertebrae Cracked as Ford Turns Over Trying To Avoid Crash

OTHER CARS COLLIDE

Fred Watts, Teacher, Hit by Hit-Skipper

Miss Mary Ellen Phillips, daughter of Mrs. Nell Phillips, Pinckney-st., was being treated in Berger hospital today for painful injuries suffered at 1:20 a. m. Sunday when the automobile of Harold Davis, S. Court-st., turned over in the middle of S. Court-st. when its driver swerved the machine trying to avoid hitting a car which had turned sharply in front of it.

The other machine was driven by George "Butch" Haley, this city. Others in the Haley car, this city, were Davis, this city, and Mr. and Mrs. Emmet Florence.

Miss Phillips was thrown to the pavement from the rumble seat of Davis' Ford. She is suffering from a cracked vertebrae, cuts on the back of her head and other cuts on her forehead and chin. Both her knees are skinned and some dirt was scraped into her skin. She is under the care of Dr. E. S. Shane.

Four Others Unhurt

Although there were five persons in the Davis car Miss Phillips was the only one injured. The others were Davis, the driver; Miss Ruth Henderson, Linden Baughman and Joe Barnes. All had spent the evening at the Phillips home then later in the evening drove to Valley View, Scioto trail club, to join others who had spent the evening there. The group was returning Miss Henderson to her home when the accident happened.

It is believed when Davis turned his car to avoid the crash the wheels caught on the traction line covering causing the car to turn over. The engine of Davis' Ford caught fire after the accident and the fire department was called.

Coat Breaks Fall

The fact that Miss Phillips was wearing a heavy fur coat probably saved her from more serious injury. It is believed the coat which is torn to shreds, helped break her fall.

School Teacher

Hit-Skip Victim

Fred Watts, high school instructor, was struck by a hit-skip driver at 1 a. m. Sunday while crossing Town at Third-st in Columbus. He was walking with his brother, Gale, and Ormsby Hall, of Columbus.

Watts, who was back in school Monday suffering cuts, a bruised eye and lacerations, was treated at St. Francis hospital.

The accident was later reported to police by Thomas McDonough, Columbus, who said his car was driven by Miss Alice Manning, of the same address.

Watts' brother and Hall jumped to escape being hit.

Two Injured as

Automobile Crash

Miss Alice Caskey, of North Robinson, O., and Edward Wyss, of Bucyrus, were treated at Berger hospital Sunday evening after an accident on the Scioto trail, north of the city.

The former had cuts on the left side of her head and the latter had a deep scalp laceration.

GAS OVERCOMES BOY; HE DROWNS

FINDLAY, March 11.—Overcome by gas fumes, Robert Edward Jenkins, aged 8, was drowned today in the bathtub at his parent's home here and his 13-year-old brother, Harold, was rendered unconscious but was later revived.

The two boys were washing in the bathtub together, getting ready to go to school. One of them apparently had turned the gas stove on full force, filling the bathroom with fumes. The youngest collapsed, sinking under the water.

Mrs. Austin Jenkins, mother of the boys, discovered the tragedy and quickly summoned neighbors who called fire men. Desperate efforts were made to resuscitate both boys but only Harold responded.

PICKAWAY FARMERS AIDED BY NEARLY HALF MILLION

CORN AND HOG BENEFITS HIGH

Actual Figure From All Benefits is $488,608.83, AAA Discloses

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 11.—Pickaway-co farmers, signers of the AAA pledge, have received a total of $488,608.83 in benefits from that agency, it was disclosed here today in the report of the comptroller of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration.

Benefits for curtailment of the corn-hog crop comprised the major part of the checks sent into the county, with $351,678.99, the report shows. Payments for wheat croppage reduction totalled $136,929.84, according to the report. No payments were made in the county under the tobacco heading, although residents of other Ohio counties did receive such checks.

The figures given comprise the total payments made from the inception of the crop curtailment agency in May 1933 until the close of business on January 31, 1935. They do not, however, include checks for benefits accruing under the last period, which are being made up in Washington at this time.

During this period farmers throughout the country have received a total of more than $800,000,000 in cash as benefits, rentals, exercise of options, etc.

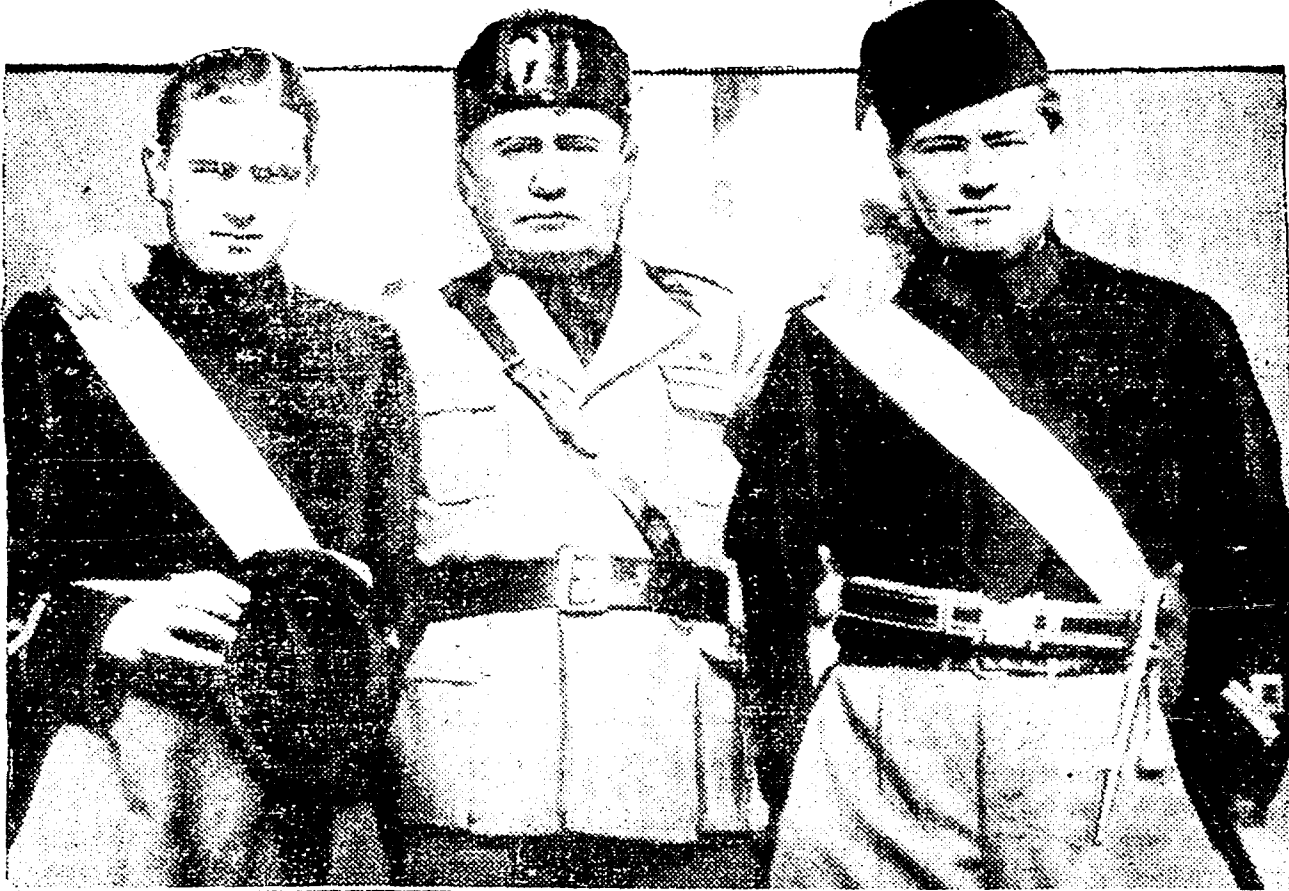

The Ohio share of this disbursement has been $14,791,692.95, according to the report. The major portion of this was under the "corn-hogs" heading, with a total there of $11,325,788.49. Wheat was next with $2,640,178.44, and tobacco last with $825,726.02.

OBITUARY

Willard Richard Francis, son of Mary and Jean Francis, born March 14, 1919 in Pickaway-co, died suddenly by accident near Kingston March 8, 1935 being near 16 years of age.

Richard leaves to mourn his early demise besides his father and mother, four sisters and three brothers, Mrs. Hazel Levan of Columbus, Mrs. Clarence Hutchinson, Ashville, Denver, Floyd, Marvine, Kathryn and Junior at home. Two sisters preceded him in death, Goldie who died in infancy, and Ruth May at the age of 18 months.

Richard was of a quiet, cheerful disposition, an obedient son, and when death claimed him was happily engaged in a labor that would be helpful to the home. At the age of three he suffered a severe illness, the after effects of which he never completely recovered from. His smiling way and pleasant face are a pleasure to recall. He had a kindly word for each and died with love for all.

Our lips cannot tell how we miss him.

Our hearts cannot tell what to say; God alone knows how we miss him. In a home that is lonesome today. Some day we hope to meet him. Some day we know not when. To clasp his hand in a better land. Never to part again.

The new and greater Studebaker Corporation reduces delivered prices

UP TO $42

Celebrates reorganization under finest financial sponsorship with sensational price challenge

TODAY Studebaker, once more "the Great Independent", in co-operation with Studebaker dealers, issues a sweeping challenge to the automobile industry by sharply reducing delivered prices.

Only the new and greater Studebaker Corporation can offer such values. Its financial structure has been adjusted to a thrifty 1935 basis and all burdensome overhead has been swept away. Studebaker now has millions of dollars in new capital . . . no bank loans . . . no preferred stock. Plants have been written down from $49,000,000 to $15,000,000.

And Studebaker is immediately passing these economies on to the public by building finer cars—by increasing and improving Studebaker's quality—and, most sensationally of all, by unexpectedly reducing delivered prices on the greatest Studebakers ever built.

New Reduced Delivered Prices in Circleville

Studebaker's sensational new delivered prices speak for themselves:

DICTATOR SPECIAL . . . Coupe $798; St. Regis Sedan, $824; Sedan, $857; Custom Sedan (with trunk), $880; Convertible Roadster, $863.

DICTATOR PLANAR . . . Coupe, $829; St. Regis Sedan, $859; Sedan, $890; Custom Sedan (with trunk), $913; Convertible Roadster, $890.

COMMANDER . . . Coupe, $1056; St. Regis Sedan (with trunk), $1123; Custom Sedan (with trunk), $1153; Convertible Roadster, $1112.

PRESIDENT . . . Coupe, $1398; Custom Sedan (with trunk), $1459; Convertible Roadster, $1449.

Above delivered prices in Circleville, Oh., include humpers, bumper guards, spare tire and tube; metal tire cover, wheel lock, metal spring covers, radiator emblem and Federal excise tax.

The tea is an annual affair for the members of Sigma Delta Chi and Theta Sigma Phi, professional journalistic fraternity and sorority on the Ohio State university campus.

Prof. Pollard is active director of the School of Journalism at the university.

Dr. and Mrs. E. R. Austin, E. Main-st., had as their guests over the week-end Dr. Austin's mother and sister, Mrs. J. M. Austin and Mrs. C. M. Ross, of Ashland, Ky.

Dark Grounds Chic

Large floral patterns on dark backgrounds are chic for spring. This afternoon frock is a silk print in white, red and blue on a darker blue ground. The slit in the back of the blouse shows a blue silk crepe, which also makes the belt clasped with a red buckle. The dress has a new cowl neckline.

MR. AND MRS. HUSTON HAVE DINNER GUESTS

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Huston, N. Court-st., entertained at dinner Sunday Mr. Huston's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Huston, of Canal Winchester, and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Yeendling and children, Joseph Jr., and Sally Lou of Columbus.

MRS. BENNETT TO BE CLUB HOSTESS

Mrs. Frank Bennett, S. Court-st., will be hostess, this evening, when she entertains the members of her dinner club at her home.

Miss Mary Radcliffe and Miss Elizabeth Dunlap saw "Roberta" at the Hartman theatre in Columbus, Saturday afternoon. Among those that saw the show Friday were Mr. and Mrs. Harry Heffner, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Orr, Miss Bernadine Lutz, Mrs. Howard Lutz, Miss Helen Mettler, Miss Doris Moffitt, Mrs. Ione Reichelderfer and son, James Reichelderfer.

Miss Mary Crist, N. Court-st., spent the week-end in Columbus, the guest of Misses Helen and Evelyn Driget and Elsie Stemen.

Mr. and Mrs. T. O. Chiland, Pinckney-st., returned Saturday afternoon from a five weeks' visit in Miami, Fla.

Green Predominates The St. Patrick's Day Menu

No questions need be asked about the color scheme for a St. Patrick's Day dinner table—it must be green!

Whether you plan a buffet supper or a dinner, a menu like this should be greeted gaily by family and friends.

St. Patrick's Day Menu
Creamed Lobster in Butter-Dough Shells
Green Olives
Shanrock Rolls
Emerald Isle Salad With Cheese
Pastry Pipes
Chocolate Sponge Roll
Green Tea or Coffee

Any creamed fish may be substituted for creamed lobster, and when served in the pastry shells, it acquires a richness that improves any fish chosen.

Butter-Dough Shells
1 pound butter
1 egg
1 C. cold water
2 1/2 C. general purpose flour

Make a dough of the flour, water and egg. Knead until dough does not adhere to the board. Roll out to a square 3/4-inch thick, and put washed and creamed butter on the center. Fold corners toward center, then fold twice, pat and roll with the rolling pin. Repeat folding process until butter is well worked into the dough. Chill thoroughly. Repeat above method 3 times. Roll out and fit to shells. Bake at 450 degrees for about 10 minutes.

The lobster is creamed by making a sauce of flour, butter and milk; adding egg for thickening and onion juice for flavoring.

Garnish the creamed lobster shells with green pepper cut in shapes of Irish hats.

Emerald Isle Salad

Tinting pale fruits with vegetable green is the key to the Emerald Isle salad. Pineapple, grapefruit and green grapes are used. When served on pale green, crisp lettuce cups with mayonnaise, the effect is quite clever. Use the coloring matter sparingly, or a sickening effect may be produced instead of the interesting one desired.

Chocolate Sponge Roll
6 Tbsp. cake or pastry flour
6 Tbsp. cocoa
1 tsp. baking powder
1/4 tsp. salt
3/4 C. sugar
4 eggs
1 tsp. vanilla

Sift the flour, cocoa, baking powder and salt three times. Beat the egg whites stiffly. Fold in the sugar. Then fold in the egg yolks (beaten until thick and lemon colored) with the vanilla. Fold in the flour gradually. Pour into a shallow, oblong pan (15 by 10 inches) lined with waxed paper, and bake for 13 minutes. Turn out at once onto a cloth covered with confectioner's sugar. Cut off the crisp edges, spread with marshmallow filling and roll. Wrap in a cloth to cool.

Marshmallow Filling
1/2 pound marshmallows (32)
1 egg white
Peppermint flavoring
Green coloring

Heat the marshmallows with the green coloring over hot water until soft, but not melted. Pour over the stiffly beaten egg white. Add flavoring and spread on cake. The faster you work after taking the cake from the oven, the easier it will be to roll it into a neat shape.

Miss Frances Leist, of Columbus, was a week-end guest of her grandmother, Mrs. Christina Pahn, E. Main-st.

Mrs. E. Marion Lutz and Miss Marjorie Curl, of Indianapolis, Ind., visited over the week-end with their sister, Mrs. Percy May and Mr. May, Wayne-twp.

Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Bales, E. Main-st., are expected to return the latter part of this week from a visit in Venice and Winter Haven, Fla.

PATTERN 9321

Quite the neatest trick we've observed for a long time is this cleverly arranged, yet delightfully simple, home frock designed by the incomparable Marian Martin. Especially nice for those of us who gain and lose weight or who just naturally love a smart looking wrap-around for sheer comfort and convenience. And of course, a boon to expectant mothers. Note how the belt slips through a slit and may be simply adjusted to fit the figure. Meanwhile, one has stepped right into it as into a coat. No petticoat needed. Nice shoulders and back aren't they? Most attractive in solid color cotton broadcloth or printed or plaid cotton of any sort.

Pattern 9321 may be ordered only in sizes 14, 16, 18, 20, 22, 24, 26, 28, 30, 32, 34, 36 and 38. Size 26 requires 4 3/8 yards 36 inch fabric.

Send FIFTEEN CENTS in coins or stamps (coins preferred) for EACH MARIAN MARTIN pattern. Be sure to write plainly your NAME, ADDRESS, the STYLE NUMBER and SIZE of each pattern.

THE PINK SLIP

NO PARTICULAR power of prophecy is required to foresee that the injustice of the "pink slip" provision of the income tax law will be felt especially in the towns and small cities, or which Circleville may very well be a typical example. In the larger cities, people are too occupied with their own affairs and care too little about the affairs of others to pry into them.

But in the smaller towns the standing of the chief citizens is somewhat a matter of common knowledge, and there lies in the pink slip the power to give an untrue picture of many a man's actual and potential resources which could not only damage reputations but could actually bring financial disaster to worthy persons.

Particularly is this true of professional and business men and merchants. To be forced to disclose to the public gaze the extent of temporary reverses or of inability to collect accounts due may well unjustly impair the individual's credit standing and injure his business. The pink slip is so devised as to publish gross income, the allowable deductions (in toto), and the tax payable.

It takes but a moment's thought to realize that these figures by no means give an accurate picture of the individual's financial status. A professional man, for example, who was able to collect only a portion of his fees in a bad year might nevertheless have excellent claims on which he could ultimately realize. In the lean year his financial position would appear from the pink slips much worse than in fact it was, and if in the next year many back payments were made it would seem much better. In either case the credit and social standing of the individual in the community would be unfairly affected.

The argument that the country has the right to know the incomes of its rich citizens is no argument, for no such right exists. The country's true right is to compel that rich and poor alike pay their taxes. It is a purpose not abetted by the pink slips. The provisions for them can and should be repealed before March 15.

BREVITY

ARISING before the house of representatives in convention solemnly assembled, Representative Andrew J. May requested the privilege of the floor for two and one-half minutes in which to deal, verbally, with the Mexican situation.

Two and one-half minutes later Representative Thomas L. Blanton sought the lesser privilege of two and one-quarter minutes in which to reply.

Thus the affairs of Mexico were disposed of, and, we hope no doubt, adequately disposed of, in four and three-quarters minutes.

It must be a good sign. If congressmen can acquit themselves of the Mexican problem in less than five minutes, may they not dispose of Japan in ten and, perhaps, the NRA in fifteen? At any rate, we hope so.

If it should become the fashion, soon we may learn that as brevity is the soul of wit so, too, is it the embodiment of congressional wisdom.

Never defeat a dangerous radical. To cure him of his foolish theories, just give him the job of making them work.

"Take no thought for the morrow" hasn't been forgotten. It still makes a lot of people pay the first instalment.

There wouldn't be so many tough kids if the penalty for minor offenses was a public spanking instead of jail.

Following a traffic crash, a Chicago woman started a $2,000 suit for loss of psychic powers, which, if she had possessed them in the first place, would have enabled her to see the crash ahead of time and be somewhere else when it occurred.

Looking Back In Pickaway County

FIVE YEARS AGO

A new postoffice building for Circleville was proposed at a meeting of business men held to discuss the unemployment situation. A special committee, with James I. Smith as chairman, was named to take the matter up with Congressman Underwood.

Representatives for 13 organizations met to discuss the "Road to Remembrance," a memorial to the soldier dead consisting of 50 maple trees along the highway south of Circleville, and a boulder with a bronze tablet.

Headed by the regent, Mrs. O. C. King, and Mrs. George Foreman, chairman of the Revolutionary graves committee, the Pickaway Plains chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, planned to locate and mark the graves of all Revolutionary soldiers buried in Pickaway co.

15 YEARS AGO

W. C. Darst, publisher of The Daily Herald, purchased the Crist block on the north side of W. Main-st. for a home for the newspaper plant. The store room had been occupied by Thos. Storer & Son's harness store for 25 years.

The new brick road extension on N. Court-st., north of the corporation line, was opened for traffic.

Fire did considerable damage to the residence property of John Howard, E. Union-st. The blaze started from a gas stove in an out-building.

25 YEARS AGO
The old frame building fronting on Washington-st., built in 1873 by C. E. Sears and used as a carriage factory, was being torn down and replaced by a modern brick structure. The owners of the property were H. M. Criles, F. P. Berger and I. E. Snyder.

T. J. Morris sold his farm of 168 acres in Washington-town to H. M. Criles at $121.50 an acre. Mr. Morris also sold his personal property at auction.

Charles Lamb, weighmaster at the Margaret elevator at Kingston, was seriously injured when he was struck by a train.

GYPGY GIRL

THE STORY OF AN IMPASSIONED ROMANCE

READ THIS FIRST:

Consuelo, a beautiful gypsy girl, longs to dance with all the world at her feet. In love with her are the Dummies, a deaf mute, and Marcu, both members of her tribe. The only hope for her mother, Anica, but is extremely fond of her father, Girtza. The father repudiates Anica for her treatment of Consuelo. When Anica finds Consuelo dressed in her own wedding skirt, she beats her with a whip. Marcu rescues her and takes her father then takes the whip on Anica. Consuelo's father slaps her when he catches her trying to hold back money she has made dancing at the county fair.

CHAPTER 5

IT WAS NOT quite dusk when Marcu slipped away from camp, but by the time he had reached the fair grounds the lights were already on and the crowds were gathering. He did not stop but walked on into the town and through the crowded streets. He seemed to know his way for he did not hesitate until he came to a side street on the up side of town where it was lonely and deserted. He walked slowly then and glanced around often. No one was in the street. The light was flickering weakly overhead. He edged close to the windows of a little shop and suddenly disappeared.

He stood back in the entrance and glanced about him again. Assured that no one was around he stared down into the show window. His eyes focused upon a large diamond ring. He backed further into the shadow until he was pressing against the door. Instinctively his right hand rested upon the knife hidden under the wide silk belt. Now he drew it forth and stooping down inspected the door lock.

His left hand pressed against the latch, the knife blade ready to insert when, to his utter surprise, the latch gave way and the door parted a half inch. He sprang back and hid the knife under his belt and waited. There was a pause. After a moment he pushed the door open a little more. The interior of the shop was quite dark and as far as he could tell, deserted. Again he glanced out into the street. There was no one around.

He opened the door open further and slipped in, listening intently. He crossed to the window.

His eyes were upon that glittering diamond that rested so insecurely there. He was breathing hard. Now! He reached out.

Something pressed against his ribs. "Did you want something?" a quiet voice asked.

Marcu drew in his breath and turned around. He stood facing a short little man, a long barreled rifle in his hands. The gypsy's eyes narrowed. He handed restlessly upon his belt.

"Yes, I want that diamond!"

Breathless, applause still ringing in her ears, Consuelo jumped down from the wooden platform into the darkness. Her hand was in her pocket, the pocket in her skirt was heavy. Money—money! She was laughing inside. She wanted to find the coins into the air and pick them up again. On the last encore they had tried to hit her ankles. Little stinging pinches again and again. When the dance was over and she was picking up the money one by one she tossed a silver dollar and it went down the neck of her blouse. Now they laughed and she laughed with them. Now she emptied her hands into her pocket and reached for the dollar. It was warm and wet.

Someone brushed against her in the darkness.

"Pretty good dancer, ain't you?" It was the low voice of the sheriff. She did not answer.

"How about keeping your promise to me? I'll meet you down at the bridge." He was pushing against her and then his arms were around her and his lips upon her neck.

"Pig! Dog of a white man!"

"The girl slid from his clumsy embrace and her hand reached out to slap him across the face.

"Pig! Dog of a white man!" The words were in Roman.

"Oh? Eh, what's that you say?"

She laughed and ran away quickly.

The lights were friendly now, good things to have about you. She went out the entrance of the fair grounds to join the rest of the band when Marcu called to her.

He did not see him for he stood in the shadows.

"Consuelo, come here!"

"I have had enough kisses for tonight."

"I will not kiss you now, I promise. I have something for you."

"A 10-cent bracelet, I suppose," she scoffed, but nevertheless crossed to him. "What is it?"

"I can't show you here. I'll go to the camp. You sneak away from the others and follow in a few minutes—don't bring that dummy with you either."

Impulsively he placed his hand on her shoulder.

"You'll like what I have for you, my dear one." With that he was gone.

Consuelo shrugged her shoulders. She crossed to where Voda stood with the little honey bear. There was a few children. After a moment he pushed the door open a little more. The interior of the shop was quite dark and as far as he could tell, deserted. Again he glanced out into the street. There was no one around.

the fox and the wrestle and I will let him knock me down and jump on top of me. Oh, how the gorgies will laugh and they will toss their heads—lots of money. I will put on a new show for them and it will all be for you, my black-haired one. Do you think now that you might spare me a kiss?" His face was very close to hers, his breath upon her cheek.

"Yes." But as she spoke her hand closed over his and grabbing up the silver coin she was off the box and running away.

Voda sprang up and started after her but Honey awoke and seeing his master running, thought it was time to wrestle so reached out and got Voda around the leg and the man went sprawling in the dust.

Far enough away, Consuelo stood and laughed at him.

"Lazy one, I said yes. Now you are too late. The moment has passed and all is lost for you, but I have your money and you would have had payment if you had not been so slow, so that is fair enough."

Voda was brushing the dust from his clothes, and the children, although they didn't understand a word of what was being said, were laughing loudly and poking their fingers at the gypsy man.

"Voda shook his head at her. "Little pig! Thief! Robber! Your kisses would be dry and stale like an old woman's and no hot blooded gypsy wants them. If you come back near me I will take you over my leg and give you a hard beating, little thief!"

"It is all you are good for, big fellow!"

"Liar!"

"Old man! No good for anything! Teaching Honey has made you as simple as a—milk, what?"

"What of a liar?" Voda screamed at her and shook both fists but he did not dare leave Honey and chase her and make her take back her spiteful, untrue words. So he was glad that she went down the road and out of his sight.

Almost before she realized it Consuelo was halfway back to the camp. She paused then and made as if to turn and go back into the town but then she thought deep about what Marcu had said. She began to picture jade necklaces and hammered gold earrings and her heart began to flutter. Surely it was something nice or he would not have been so mysterious about it. So she went to the camp.

THEATRES

AT THE GRAND

"Gambling," George M. Cohan's starring picture now showing at the Grand Theatre, was directed by a man who knows his mystery films. Rowland V. Lee, brought from Hollywood to New York to handle "Gambling" at an eastern studio, is well known as the director of "Underworld," "The Mystery of Fu Manchu," "The Return of Fu Manchu" and other screen thrillers.

AT THE CLIFTONA

Audiences who see W. C. Fields in Paramount's "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch," which is now playing at the Cliftona Theatre, will catch a momentary glimpse of a Fields they will not recognize. A youthful, dark-haired and dashing young man, who represents Fields as he was thirty years ago.

Playing the role of the bachelor whom the famous "Miss Hazy," played by ZaSu Pitts, woos through a matrimonial bureau, Fields discovered that the role called for a picture of a young man to be received by the impressionable spinster lady.

Fields located an "it" study of himself, made in Cape Town, South Africa, when he was a young man and a tramp juggler, and Director Norman Taurog drafted it for use in the picture.

POLITICAL HOOLIGANS

(Columbus Dispatch)

At a certain railway restaurant system complaints of verminous food have been filed. Local political officials decided to fit the punishment to the offense, as they saw it. Therefore, they ordered that the staff of the restaurant be forced to eat a rather repulsive soup. This was done under protest.

It is to the credit of the supreme commissars when they heard of the incident that they ordered severe punishment meted out to the local officials. The charge was "political hooliganism."

Certainly the charge was broad enough

POISON KILLS 2 IN NEWARK. OTHERS SICK

Aged Man, Boy Die; Food-stuffs, Tablets Examined By Chemists

NEWARK, March 11—Authorities today attempted to trace the source of the poison which took the lives of an aged man and a boy and caused the illness of two other persons in the Frank Johnson household here.

Canned foodstuffs and medicine tablets found in the home will be examined by chemists, police said. Victims of the poisoning were Warren Thompson, 76, of Hanover, and his 11-year-old grandson, William Johnson. The boy's father, Frank Johnson, 31, was removed to city hospital and was reported in a critical condition.

Mrs. Bessie Hupp, 40, the housekeeper at the Johnson home since Mrs. Johnson died two weeks ago, was stricken ill after eating dinner at the Johnson home Friday and also was believed to be suffering from the effects of poison. Her illness handicapped the police investigation temporarily.

The tragedy was discovered when Frank Kelly, a relative of the Johnsons, went to the home to invite members of the motherless household to Sunday dinner. When no one answered his knock, Kelly forced the front door.

He found Frank Johnson writhing in pain on a floor and rushed out to call police and a doctor. Returning, he found the aged man dead in a chair fully clothed and the boy's body was in a bed in an upstairs room.

Physicians under the direction of Coroner John C. Thompson conducted an immediate autopsy and said poison was responsible. City Chemist A. T. Kaiser was to examine home-canned beans and tomatoes today to determine whether they were tainted.

Contest Over Estate of Reynolds Starts Today

WINSTON SALEM, N. C., March 11—The battle between Anne Cannon Reynolds and Libby Holman, two wives of the late Z. Smith Reynolds, over the division of the $25,000,000 estate of the young sportsman and aviator, was scheduled to begin in Forsyth court today before Judge Clayton Moore.

The two former wives of Reynolds, who died under mysterious circumstances at his home here July 6, 1932, seek the major portion of the tobacco heir's estate for their respective children.

Reynolds married Libby Holman, Broadway blues singer, after his divorce from the former Anne Cannon in Reno.

The highlight of the hearing is expected to be the stiff opposition of J. F. Cannon, father of the first Mrs. Cannon, to the proposed settlement of the estate made by the brother and sisters of Smith Reynolds. Cannon is fighting the settlement on the grounds that the estate would be subject to federal and state inheritance taxes totaling $15,000,000, thereby reducing the value of the holdings to $10,000,000.

Some fifteen attorneys are gathered here for the hearing on

JURY TO HOLD INSULL FATE LATER IN DAY

Former Utilities Magnate Charged With Embezzling $66,000 Sum

CHICAGO, March 11—The fate of Samuel Insull, former utilities magnate, will rest with a jury.

Insull, charged on a charge of embezzling $66,000 from the Middle West Utilities company, was recently acquitted by a federal jury of charges of using the mails to defraud in connection with the collapse of his power empire.

Insull was to be subjected to a cross-examination today, closing the testimony.

Final arguments will probably be limited to one hour for each side, indicating the case will go to the jury late today.

The state charges Insull fraudulently obtained $66,000 of Middle West funds to bolster brokerage accounts of his brother, Martin Insull.

FAVORS EARLY LAWN SEEDING

If the lawn is to be seeded in the spring, it should be done as early in March as possible, early enough so that several freezings and thawings will cover the seed, in the opinion of George M. McClure, agronomist of the Ohio State University.

McClure says the quality of the seed is important. All seed that is sold in Ohio must be labeled, he says, adding, avoid all mixtures containing Canada bluegrass, orchard grass, or timothy, or seed containing more than one-half of one per cent of weed seeds.

For general lawn use, according to McClure, a good mixture is one containing 60 per cent Kentucky bluegrass and 20 per cent red top. For shady lawns Chewings fescue is satisfactory.

For satisfactory results a fertilizer should be applied a week before the seed is sown. McClure recommends about 20 pounds of 4-12-4 mixture for each 1000 square feet of lawn.

TEENERS DRAW SOUTH QUINT; DARBY LOSES

Columbus Team Is Foe of Locals at 7:30 Thursday In Coliseum

Columbus South, coached by Harley "Chick" Pearce, former Ohio Wesleyan star, will be the Circleville foe in the first round of the district class A basketball tournament to start in Columbus Thursday. The game starts at 7:30 p. m. and a large crowd of Circleville fans including all the "Stooges" are expected to be present when the Tigers trot onto the Coliseum court.

The drawing was made Saturday in the office of Commissioner H. R. Townsend, kingfisher of Ohio basketball.

Circleville was represented by Ervin Carlisle, of Delaware. The tournament opens at 3 o'clock with Grandview Central Buckeye league tilting, meeting Lancaster.

The first round schedule follows: 4 p. m. Aquinas vs. West. 5 p. m. Marion vs. North. 6:30 Mt. Vernon vs. Bexley. 7:30 Circleville vs. South. 8:30 Central vs. Westerville. 9:30 East vs. Delaware.

Newark drew a bye. The Tigers have been playing mighty good ball in their recent starts and may make things tough for the favored South in team Two cagers, Tapia and Freeman, are South's best.

Drubbing Pleasant-wp in the first round, the cagers of Darby, after elimination of Scioto and Walnut teams, took it on chin at the hands of the Fairfield-co team, Liberty Union, in the class B meet at Westerville.

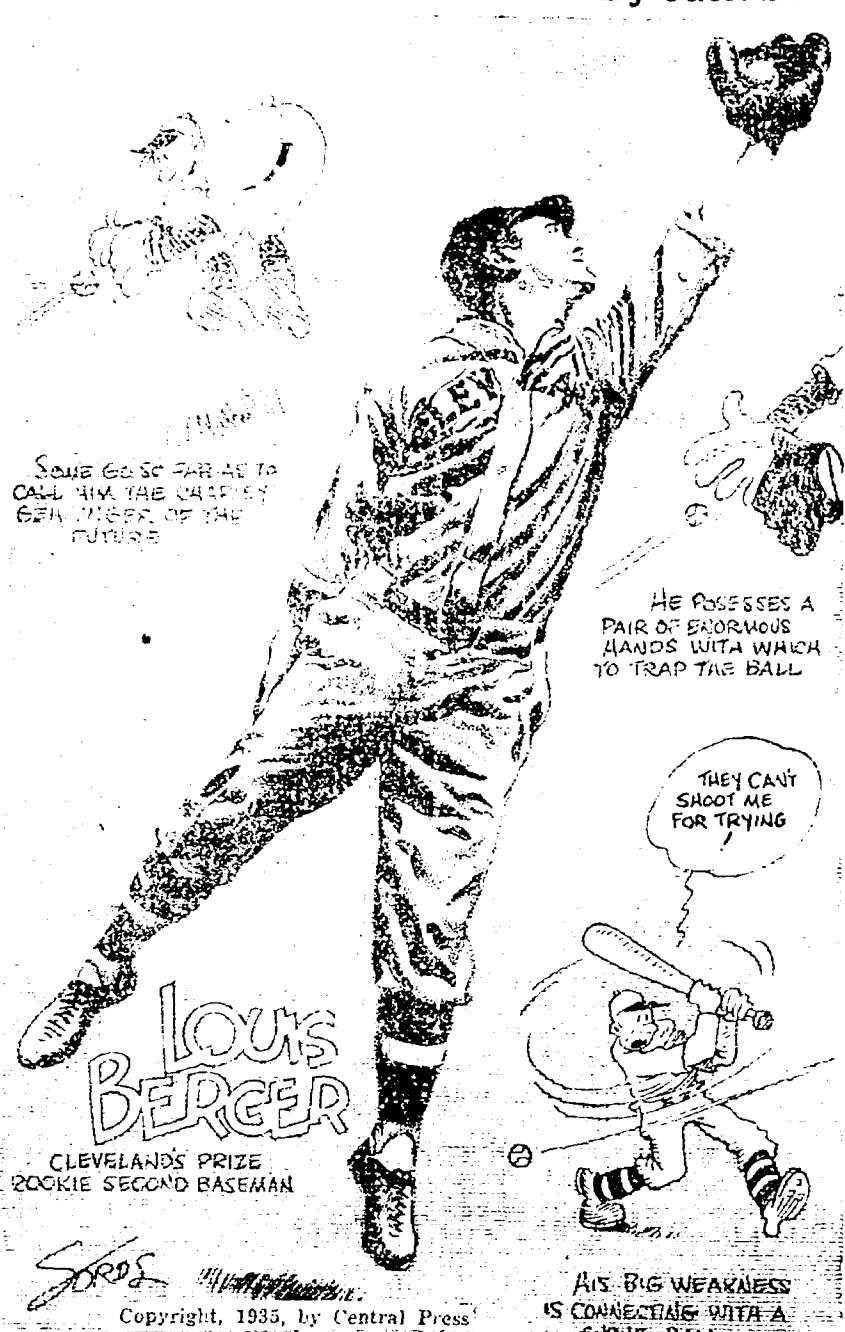

The score was 39-25. The lineup: Liberty U. C. F. Darby-wp. G. E. Cleveland 12, A. W. Smith 12, G. H. Heflick 12, J. Green 12, J. Johnson 12, J. Heflick 12, C. H. Heflick 12, J. Heflick 12, J. Heflick 12, J. Heflick 12.

DEAN, RUTH FRIENDS
TAMPA, Fla., March 11.—Taking a busman's holiday, Dizzy Dean came to Plant field here yesterday to watch a baseball game and to exchange assurances with Babe Ruth that there were "no hard feelings." Dizzy explained "they got me all wrong in the papers." As for the baseball game, the Cincinnati Reds walloped Ruth's Boston Braves 12 to 1. Two young rookie southpaws, Hollingsworth, Richmond, held the honors for the Reds. Hollingsworth held the great Babe to a pop fly.

INDIANS NEED WORK
NEW ORLEANS, La., March 11.—Plainly showing their lack of practice, the Cleveland Indians eked out a 7 to 5 win here yesterday over the New Orleans Pelicans. The game was the Indians' first real workout in three days, having been kept inside by rain since last Thursday. A youngster named Milton McIntyre, a product of the University of California, was the standout of the rookie squad. He showed real hitting ability against the Pelicans.

Estell's Five Victorious As Allen Wins Numeral

A pair of Pickaway-co students at Ohio State university, Ansell Estell and Harold Allen, had a successful week-end in intramural athletics. Estell's Alpha Gamma Sigma basketball team captured the University Class B championship and Allen earned his numerals on the freshman wrestling squad. From the time Estell sank the first basket from under the net on a fast-break play which characterized the Pickaway-wp team a few years back, the Alpha Gams held a slight lead throughout the game winning 15-13. The Pickaway-co basketball proved to be one of the strongest and most accurate passers in the University circles this year.

The Alpha Gams are an Ag fraternity.

Won Over De Pietro

Allen earned his numerals by taking a 2-minute, 37-second time advantage over the ex-city champ of Columbus, Mal De Pietro, in a 135-pound wrestling match. Allen grabbed the advantage early but he had a tough time warding off the chunky Italian's 1st minute rush.

The Pickaway-co grappler lost his second match to Hollis Chase of Columbus, dropping a 2-minute time advantage.

So close was the match that Varsity Coach Spike Mooney will award Allen numerals to encourage him to come out for the Varsity next year. This tournament was Allen's first experience on the mat.

George Colville, captain of the Varsity swimming team, will be in a tough spot next week-end when the Buck mermen invade Illinois pool in quest of Western Conference swimming honors. George came through with a second place last year, but the field for this year contains some of the best breaststroke swimmers in the history of the Conference.

About This And That
BY THE SECOND GUESSER

League To Be Formed
Every time a nice day comes along that little old bug that causes recreation ball fever to return starts to work—There will be a league this year, you can bet on that, but nothing has been done yet and nothing will be done for a while—Another effort will be made to obtain the S. O. Electric field for the league.

Mention of night ball has been made but the financial question is the puzzler.

Lovellville Strong
The biggest threat to the Waterloo team in the state class B tournament may come from the eastern part of the state where a crack Lovellville five has swept aside everything in its path—So good is the team that four of its athletes were named on the all-star district team. Lovellville counts 671 points during the regular season to 385 for its foes Waterloo is still undefeated in tournament play and it looks very much like the team will again go to Columbus. Dayton Roosevelt, last year's champion, is also still in the running.

Cage Stars Fired
Moose's coach had a little difficulty in Chillicothe early Saturday. His team lost to the Youngs—who athletes then several of the stars decided to go to a dance. They did. They got home too late so the coach suspended them. The ousted athletes include McPeck, captain and star of last year's team, who made the all-state team.

Owens Brilliant
Figured to finish third and maybe fourth, Jess Owens, Ohio State negro flash, surprised everyone Saturday by breaking the world's record for the 60-yard dash running it in .061, one-tenth of a second better than the mark. The event was a part of the western conference indoor meet.

CHAMP READY TO RISK TITLE WITH GERMAN

"Up to Public," Baer Says Learning of Schmeling Victory Over Hamas

ROSEVILLE, Cal., March 11.—"If the public wants the match," Max Baer will certainly meet Max Schmeling in a rematch for the title.

"Why not," the gay Lethario of the prize ring queried after receiving the news Schmeling polished off Steve Hamas in nine rounds at Hamburg.

"I'll fight Frankenstein if I can make any money," Baer boasted. The champion's manager, Art Hitegan, agreed with his fighter that a championship bout with Schmeling was acceptable "if the public wants the match."

Just when and where the Baer-Schmeling rematch will be staged, neither Baer nor Hoffman could say.

"If Madison Square Garden can't get Schmeling, it looks like the June fight in New York is off and our contract with the Garden is null and void," said Hoffman.

"In that case, we can't pass up the original offer of $250,000 tendered by Walter Rothenberg, the German promoter, for a Baer-Schmeling match in Germany. Especially if the quarter of a million is deposited in an American bank. Naturally, we want an option of 40 per cent of the gate receipts."

OWEN'S HEALTH WORRIES TIGERS

LAKELAND, Fla., March 11.—Detroit Tiger hopes were dealt a shattering blow today when Manager Mickey Cochrane received a telegram from Marvin Owen, flailing third baseman, at Hot Springs, which informed him that "Mrv" has undergone a sinus operation and will be unable to report in Lakeland until Thursday.

The regular third sacker, who came through in such fine style last year and rounded out one of the best infields in either league, was counted upon to assume the third-base burden again this year.

Just what his condition will be when he shows up Thursday, Manager Cochrane was unwilling to guess. He did, however, roam the local hotel lobby heavy with thought.

Opponents of TVA Plan to Continue Fight Following Decision in Their Favor

Judge Grubb Known for Strict Legal Interpretations

By ROBERT H. BROWN
Central Press Correspondent
BIRMINGHAM, Ala., March 11.—Opponents of the government's Tennessee Valley Authority intend to press their opposition with all the energy in their power—fol-

seriously and time and again he has refused newspapermen features and pictures of himself.

"It is not dignified for a judge, in my estimation," he once told this writer.

He has held the bench here for 25 years, and is a graduate of Harvard. He attended Cincinnati Law school and was a friend of the Tafts. His appointment to federal bench in the northern Alabama dis-

Federal Judge W. I. Grubb

lowing up the decision of Federal Judge W. I. Grubb that the TVA cannot compete against private companies in the sale of electricity. Even though the government is carrying its appeal to the highest courts, the opponents are confident. They plan to file as many suits as possible to harass the TVA in all its operations.

Behind the opposition, of course, are virtually the united public utilities of the United States.

In rendering an oral decision calling the TVA program illegal, Judge Grubb lived up to tradition. He is respected highly in Birmingham, but is known as a judge who will render a decision a-cording to the law as he sees it regardless of the effects or the broad social consequences.

Old Enough to Retire

Judge Grubb is old enough to retire from the bench, yet he refuses. Once, according to the story among lawyers here, he told a group of lawyers who supposedly were after his job, that they need not be expecting him to resign. "The only way I'll leave here is when they take me out to the cemetery," they say he told them.

A man of small stature, Judge Grubb leads a secluded life, yet he is as well known as the head of the city commission. He takes his job strict was made by President William Howard Taft.

He has held many important honorary positions and has sat in on many important cases. He was a member of the Wickersham commission.

Another NRA Case Appealed

Another of Judge Grubb's decisions is up now before the U. S. supreme court. Judge Grubb held the NRA code for the lumber and timber industry unconstitutional. Appeal was, of course, taken by the government.

That case was brought before Judge Grubb when W. B. Belcher, a lumber manufacturer, was indicted on a charge that he worked employees more hours than the code allowed and below the minimum wage scale. The lumberman charged that enforcement of the code meant disaster to him and would take his property without the process of the law and that the NRA was illegal. Judge Grubb sustained this contention.

That Grubb is an anti New Deal, naturally appears on the surface to the layman, judging from all two NRA decisions. But such is not the case. Lawyer friends say he is an admirer of President Roosevelt, and is very much in favor of the methods Roosevelt is using. To Judge Grubb, though, his personal opinion means nothing when it comes to making a decision. He goes back to the law books and that law-minded brain of his, attorneys say.

His favorite hobby is reading metropolitan newspapers. He likes to read the New York papers and every day he goes to his father's news stand for the Gotham sheets.

His wife is an active clubwoman in Alabama.

Keeps Clear Docket

Alabama attorneys admire Judge Grubb for one thing among many. Judge Grubb keeps a clear, orderly docket. When a case is scheduled to be heard it usually is heard. At the opening of a term of court he has a certain number of cases to be heard, and they are heard. Once he was called to New York to hold court, and was shocked at the lax manner in which court was conducted there. He did not like the idea of lawyers struggling into court around 11 o'clock.

Judge Grubb announced: "Gentlemen, we've got a docket to clear. We're going to clear it tomorrow morning, and every morning thereafter, court will convene at 8 o'clock."

Immediately the lawyers protested. They shouted excuses that they couldn't make it at 8 o'clock. Attorneys commuting from the outlying sections said they had to travel too far.

"Gentlemen, I realize your predicament. But I live in Birmingham, Ala., and I intend to be here at 8 o'clock, and if I can be here on time you can, too," he is said to have replied. After that court convened at 8 o'clock for the duration of the term.
